

Johnson Gives Broad Hint of His Candidacy

Democrats Raise About $1 Million At Party Festivities

BY W. B. RAGDALE JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats gaily cheered "Once in Love with Lyndon" as they poured an estimated million dollars into the party treasury Tuesday night and heard President Johnson step just short of declaring what everyone knows: that he plans to be around for four more years.

Republicans were singing another tune.

They charged that career government employees had been pressured into taking part in the $100-a-ticket Democratic frolic.

The festivities were part of fund-raising efforts expected to net more than $3 million this week for the 1964 Democratic presidential campaign. A re-run of the whole show is scheduled Thursday night in New York.

6,000 in Armory

Some 6,000 turned out for the star-filled "Salute to Johnson" show at the District of Columbia Armory, with 750 persons on hand for the earlier $2,000-a-plate dinner with the President.

No figures were available, but the festivities probably contributed at least the $1 million predicted in advance.

But Johnson, with tongue firmly in cheek, insisted it was not a political shindig.

"This show is open to anyone who wants to contribute $100 to the Democratic campaign," he said.

Gives Broad Hint

On the serious side, Johnson told the crowd, "This is a significant moment. You are gathering on one Democratic administration draws to a close—and as

Johnson Method For Funds Seen As 'Barebones'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Add the barebones technique to President Johnson's long list of ways of getting things done.

It served to get the foreign aid bill through the House Foreign Affairs Committee, and it may well get the bill all the way through Congress virtually untouched.

For the first time since the foreign aid program started back in the days after World War II, the Foreign Affairs Committee did not cut even one cent from the total.

Not only that, it added an extra $125 million to jack up the war effort in Viet Nam, making a total of about $3.5 billion for economic aid and military assistance to countries around the world.

A final routine vote by the committee on a clean copy of the bill is expected today to send it on its way to the House floor.

Last year, by contrast, President John F. Kennedy first asked for $4.9 billion for the program. By the time it had threaded its way through the appropriations process it came out at $3.3 billion.

Foreign Affairs Chairman Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., said in past years "everybody looked on this as a padded affair. This is a complete reversal. I think the President took a look at this thing and said he wasn't going through that procedure and run that gamut."

Japanese Cool on Mikoyan's Proposals

TOKYO (AP) — Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan returned home today without agreement on two major proposals he brought from Premier Khrushchev.

The Japanese balked on conclusion of a World War II peace treaty because the Soviets refused to return several islands off northern Japan. They made agreement to joint efforts for a total nuclear test ban conditional on Soviet acceptance of an effective policing system.

Two weeks of discussion also failed to produce agreement on a Tokyo-Moscow airline.

Rusk to Lead U. S. Group to Nehru Rites

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk made emergency preparations to lead a high-level U.S. delegation today to the funeral of Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India.

Rusk, before daybreak to receive notice of the death of the Indian leader, Rusk arranged to fly out of Andrews Air Force Base, Md. for New Delhi. Word of Nehru's death also was relayed to President Johnson in the early hours.

Other members of Rusk's party were Assistant Secretary of State Phillips Talbot, in charge of Far Eastern and Southeast Asian affairs, and U.S. Ambassador Chester Bowles, who has been at home for consultations.

India's defense minister, Y. B. Chavan, who had been visiting the United States and negotiating for arms aid, was invited to accompany the party.

Chavan, who has been mentioned in some quarters as a possible successor to Nehru, was notified of the prime minister's death in Colorado Springs, Colo., where he was visiting the U.S. Air Force Academy. Until the trip with Rusk was set up, he had planned to leave at once for New York and fly home from there.

2 Classes of Sales Taxes Are Dropped by State

MADISON (AP)—Two classes of sales taxes were eliminated under bills signed into law by Gov. John W. Reynolds Tuesday.

One measure removes the fee on laundry, dry cleaning, pressing and dyeing services when the work involves raw materials or goods destined for sale.

The other eliminates the sales tax on motor fuel for pleasure boats, motors and trailers.

The governor also signed a bill to increase from 10 to 30 acres the amount of church or religious association property that may be exempted from taxes.

Other bills will: Permit employers of non-residents to pay up to $1,500 in wages for services performed in Wisconsin without subjecting the wages to withholding taxes. Change the penalty for late filing of state tax returns from 10 per cent of the tax due to a flat $10 and impose a one per cent a month delinquent interest penalty.

Civil Rights Bill Nears Showdown

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate leaders are scrambling for the votes needed to apply cloture now that a showdown over the civil rights bill appears certain next month.

A revised bill—compromised to attract the undecided but retaining the basic provisions of the version which cleared the House Feb. 10—was finally introduced in the Senate Tuesday after weeks of tinkering.

The bipartisan leaders immediately voiced varying degrees of confidence that it will clear the Senate in June.

First, however, the rights forces must get two-thirds of the senators present and voting to approve an end to debate, which is in its 65th day today.

Affected by Saigon Coups

BY FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is unlikely to admit it, but it seems apparent the plan to wind up the major part of the U.S. military effort in South Viet Nam by the end of 1965 has quietly withered away.

When officials are reminded of that plan, announced last October, they reply: "But there have been two coups in Saigon since then."

What they mean is that the effort against the Communist insurgents has been set back by confusion and disorganization stemming from two changes in the South Vietnamese government. These were the overthrow of the Diem regime by a military junta in November and the overthrow of the junta by another military group in January.

Two bills in that the 10,000 U.S. military men in South Viet Nam will not be reduced appreciably, if at all, this year, and perhaps not to any great extent next year.

New plans to double the number of Vietnamese pilots and to boost the Vietnamese ground forces by some 50,000 men will entail increased U.S. training responsibilities that will carry over at least into 1965.

Some U.S. advisers will return home as their tasks are finished—as the Vietnamese get the hang of doing certain things for themselves.

Nehru, India's Leader, Dies After He Has 2nd Stroke

Late Prime Minister Hailed As Asia's Top Statesman

LONDON (AP)—The death of Prime Minister Nehru of India shocked the capitals of the world today. Tributes poured forth from friend and foe alike.

Perhaps the most moving scene came at Geneva, where the delegate of Pakistan, a nation that once fought India and had no use for Nehru, rose to address the U.N. World Trade and Development Conference.

His voice breaking with emotion, Pakistani delegate Habibur Rahman declared:

"He was a champion of liberty and freedom throughout the world and played a dominant role in the struggle for the independence of the Indian subcontinent. Pakistan joins with all its heart in the condolences offered to the Indian delegation and the Indian people."

Among the first condolences to reach New Delhi were those from Britain, head of the British Commonwealth of which India is a member.

Queen Elizabeth sent this message to President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan:

"I am deeply grieved to hear of the death of Mr. Nehru, who will be mourned throughout the commonwealth and among the peace-loving peoples of the world. My husband and my family join me in sending our deep and sincere sympathy to you and to the people of India in the irreparable loss which you have suffered."

Admiral of the Fleet Lord Mountbatten, who was Britain's last viceroy in India before independence, will represent the queen at the funeral. Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home will represent the government.

Said Mountbatten: "He was one of the great figures of history and the world is poorer for his passing. He was a most magnanimous man who never showed the slightest personal resentment at being kept so many years in prison by us."

"He was a great world figure and perhaps might be regarded as a doyen (dean) of world statesmen," said Earl Attlee who was prime minister when India became independent in 1947. He also praised Nehru for his lack of bitterness against British rulers who clapped him in prison many times during the struggle for independence.

Held Prime Minister's Post Since Nation Gained Its Independence in 1947

BY CONRAD FINK

NEW DELHI (AP) — Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, the aristocratic statesman who led India in the paths of neutralism and socialism since it became independent in 1947, died today after suffering his second stroke in less than five months. He was 74.

Home Minister G. L. Nanda, a senior cabinet member who has a reputation for getting things done, was sworn in as acting prime minister 10 hours after Nehru's death.

Nanda was sworn in by President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan. An elderly philosopher renowned in world academic circles, Radhakrishnan was charged under the constitution to take over the government on the death of the prime minister, but Nanda was quickly chosen to handle the administrative details.

Nehru's death was attributed to a heart attack and shock.

"The prime minister is no more," Steel Minister C. Subramaniam told the sobbing Parliament. "Life is out. The light is out."

A state funeral and cremation will be held quickly, in accordance with Indian custom. The Defense Ministry said the funeral procession would start in New Delhi Thursday morning.

Askes Into River

If the usual custom is followed, Nehru's ashes will be strewn in the nation's holy rivers, probably at Allahabad, his birthplace, at the confluence of the Ganges, the Jumna and the mythological underground Saraswati River.

In London, Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home said he would fly to India this afternoon for the funeral. Buckingham Palace said Queen Elizabeth II would be represented by Earl Mountbatten, who was India's last viceroy and first governor general and a close friend of Nehru's.

Home Secretary V. Viswanathan said Nehru's physicians attributed his death to "heart attack and shock."

Nehru was stricken at 6:25 a.m. as he arose at his usual hour. He died at 2 p.m. — 4:30 a.m. EDT, seven hours and 35 minutes later. A stroke on Jan. 7 had partially paralyzed his left side but he had recovered somewhat and in recent weeks had resumed his seat in Parliament.

His only child, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, was with him when he died. A large group of doctors was in attendance. The U.S. Embassy offered its medical staff and equipment, but an embassy spokesman said the Indian government did not request assistance.

Sisters Fly to New Delhi

Nehru's two sisters, Mrs. Vijayalakshmi Pandit and Mrs. Krishna Hutchesing, left Bombay by special plane for New Delhi.

Mrs. Pandit is governor of Maharashtra State.

Nehru's death urgently raised a question that has plagued India for years.

Experts Detonate Civil War Torpedo

GREENVILLE, Miss (AP)—A century-old experimental torpedo—nudged from its Civil War grave in the old Mississippi River channel near Vicksburg—has been detonated.

Demolition experts blasted the cigar-shaped Union navy torpedo Tuesday at Greenville Air Force Base.

The torpedo was discovered Sunday by William W. Felker of Greenville, while fishing near Vicksburg. Felker said he drove home "with the thing rolling around in the back of my car."

A. W. Banton, resident historian of the Vicksburg National Military Park, said a check with the Smithsonian Institution indicated the torpedo was the first such of Civil War vintage ever discovered.

When the bill passed the Legislature Reynolds hailed it as "the greatest step forward in tax legislation that this state or any other state has ever taken."

German Sentenced by Arabs as Israeli Spy

CAIRO (AP) — Franz Huttenmeister, a West German, was convicted today of spying for Israel, sentenced to 10 years in prison and fined $2,400.

Huttenmeister, a 28-year-old student from Cologne, was arrested last November. The government said he had come to contact an Israeli agent and take secrets out of the country.

New York Mob Shouts for Lynching of Holdup Killer

NEW YORK (AP) — "Lynch him. Kill him," shouted a mob of whites outside a bar where a Negro was being questioned about a holdup murder of a white bartender.

The victim was the third white man attacked by Negroes near the western edge of Harlem in five days.

Police had to call in reinforcements Tuesday night to push through the mob to a patrol car with the Negro. They said early today that the man, Alonzo Cook, 20, of Harlem, had admitted the shooting.

He was booked on a charge of homicide.

Police said the bartender, Gerald Esmond, 55, was talking to a lone customer when the gunman entered and said, "Give me your money."

"Are you kidding?" Esmond asked, and was shot twice. The gunman grabbed $40 from the cash register and fled, pursued by the customer.

Police arrested Cook after they found him in bushes in a church yard.

Esmond, married and the father of one, was well-known in the Vinegar Hill section of Manhattan's upper West Side, a predominantly white neighborhood. A crowd gathered at the bar at 3239 Broadway and the noisiest rattle and pounded on the door, shouting for a lynching.

Last Friday night, L. Carroll Adams, 56, a professor of physical education at Columbia University, was attacked and robbed of $70 by about 30 teenage Negroes.

Adams was attacked at 120th Street and Riverside Drive after he left a Peace Corps meeting. Police captured six of the Negroes, aged 13 to 16.

The next day Prof. John Hazard, 55, of Columbia Law School was attacked by five Negro teenagers at Morningside Drive and 113th Street. They knocked him to the ground, took his watch and wallet containing about $30 and fled.

Goldwater, Ike Agree on Basic Republicanism

Senator Outstrips All Candidates in Number of Ballots

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — When former President Eisenhower issued a statement on Monday describing in general terms his attitude toward the principles which the Republican party should bear in mind in nominating a candidate, the outline was promptly constructed by some critics as being a pattern that the Arizona senator could not possibly fit. Senator Goldwater himself, however, welcomed the declaration as a "restatement of the basic Republican principles" on which he said he was campaigning.

A close reading of what Mr. Eisenhower really said would seem to indicate that Senator Goldwater could accept 100 per cent what Mr. Eisenhower wrote and still be consistent with previous utterances.

Mr. Eisenhower, in his copyrighted article in the New York "Herald Tribune," wrote, for example:

"We believe in keeping government as close to the people as possible — in letting each citizen do for himself what he can do for himself, then making any call for government assistance first on the local government, then on the state government, and only in the final resort on the federal government."

Conservative Philosophy

This is a philosophy which many conservatives have embraced, including Senator Goldwater, who once commented that not all the activities of the Tennessee Valley Authority were necessarily the province of the federal government and that some, but not necessarily all, of the facilities could just as well be operated under lease by private enterprise.

Another part of the latest statement by Mr. Eisenhower pointed out that more progress had been made in "civil rights" during the eight years of the Republican administration than in the preceding 80 years. Mr. Eisenhower said:

"We did this through vigorous executive action, through steadfast enforcement of court decisions and through passage of the Civil Rights Acts of 1957 and 1960 — the first such acts passed since Reconstruction."

Goldwater Statement

Senator Goldwater on Sunday — the day before Mr. Eisenhower was issuing his statement — expressed his views on this very subject in a television interview with Howard K. Smith on the American Broadcasting Company's program, "Issues and Answers." Mr. Goldwater said:

"At one time when I wrote the book ('The Conscience of a Conservative') I felt that it was improper for the federal government to intervene in a local school system as far as integration goes. I believe now that this is possible, and I believe the machinery is there to do it and I think the criticism I would aim at the attorney generals we have had is that they haven't used the machinery. Now they are asking for another law. If this is needed, fine and dandy. I will go along with it."

Senator Goldwater discussed the pending "civil rights" bill, and pointed out that too many members of Congress are confusing civil rights and states rights. He added that the Constitution mentions only one civil right, and that is the right to vote. He emphasized that the states have the right to deal with public accommodations and that 31 out of the 50 states have already done so. He added:

Federal Power

"But they have never turned over to the federal government the power to do this, and the Congress in a very wrong approach in my opinion is using the interstate commerce clause of the Constitution to accomplish this."

"If this is correct, then the federal government doesn't have

Somalia, Kenya Plan Talks About Frontier

MOGADISHU, Somalia (AP) — Somalia and Kenya will open talks soon to settle a frontier dispute between the two African countries, a spokesman for the Somali Foreign Ministry said Saturday.

Incidentally, the latest tabulation of the voting in the ten states in which presidential primaries have been held shows that 1,067,201 persons voted for Senator Goldwater as the exponent of true republicanism. This exceeded all the votes cast for Goldwater's views and those of Messrs. Lodge, Rockefeller, Nixon and Scantlon in those same primaries. (Copyright 1964)

Racial Controversies

Mr. Eisenhower, in discussing the racial controversies of the day, said there are many matters of the human heart and spirit which "are not always amenable to law."

Close examination of Senator Goldwater's views and those of former President Eisenhower will disclose that, while there may be some differences of opinion

No Trouble in Getting Data On U. S. Plants

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Col. Stig Wennerstrom has testified that, as a spy for the Soviet Union, he had no difficulty in collecting information about U. S. defense industries.

"It was easy to get information if you indicated you were interested in buying," the 57-year-old airman — diplomat declared in secret proceedings made public in part today.

Confesses Spying He was Sweden's air attaché in Washington from 1952 to 1957, Wennerstrom said informally in a complete field hospital unit, to among material he turned over to Moscow. Wennerstrom has admitted spying against his neutral homeland, the United States and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization for 14 years. Tried only for relaying Sweden's defense secrets to the Russians, he is to hear the verdict June 12.

In an open court session May 15 he said he acted from "idealistic motives." The prosecution demanded that he be sentenced to life imprisonment. His defense counsel suggested 12 years in prison.

Parts of the records of the police investigation and interrogation released today covered 900 of a total of 3,700 pages. The rest is marked secret and probably will never be published.

Cuban Exiles Tell How They Dropped Supplies To Castro's Enemies

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. Van Pelt Criticizes Rights Bill Backers

Fond du Lac GOP Congressman Says Democrats 'Backpeddling'

BY BOB KOPLIN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer
CHILTON — Republican Rep. William Van Pelt, Sixth District, Tuesday criticized Democrats for "backpeddling" on their civil rights bill stand.

Speaking to Calumet County GOP leaders in Chilton the congressman said Democrats who introduced the bill at first were "hotly in favor of the bill being passed with no changes."

Since that time, he said, "they have backpeddled to the point where they are willing to accept anything to get the bill passed."

Van Pelt, Fond du Lac, who is running for his eighth consecutive term in the House, said when the bill was passed it would be "just a name" or could give only voting privileges. He is the only state congressman who voted against the bill in the House.

used for a continuation of the proposed program. The program was supposed to be ready, he said, and now its backers say the expenditure is needed to revitalize.

$500,000 Allocation
The Conservation Department, Van Pelt charged, would have had to allocate $500,000 for the park, but money is not available now.

The Wisconsin Republican Party is more unified than it has been in years, the incumbent representative said and added, "This year the party is presenting an outstanding ticket."

Lawrence Beck Candidate for Assembly Seat

Kaukauna Insurance Salesman 2nd GOP Hopeful in Primary

Lawrence D. Beck, 41, a Kaukauna insurance salesman, said today that he is a Republican candidate for Outagamie County's Second District assemblyman's post.

Beck, a newcomer to politics, has one announced GOP opponent in the September primary election, Norman Austin, Oneida town supervisor and chairman. The incumbent in the Second District is William Rogers, Kaukauna, a Democrat.

Outagamie County's new Second District, recently carved out by the State Supreme Court in its reapportionment edict, includes the towns of Buchanan, Freedom, Kaukauna, Oneida, Osborn, Seymour and Vandenberg; the villages of Combined Locks, Kimberly and Little Chute, and the cities of Kaukauna and Seymour.

"No Fancy Claims"
Beck, who is a member of the Outagamie County and the Heart of the Valley Republican clubs, said, "I have no fancy claims to make, I'm running primarily because I have an interest in good government. With my background and my understanding of human relations, I feel qualified to represent the people of this district."

The GOP candidate lives on County Trunk K, about a half mile southwest of Kaukauna. For the last nine years he has been engaged in life insurance sales, plus estate planning and counseling.

Beck lived in Kimberly for five years before moving to his present home while in Kimberly, he was a member of the Kimberly Businessmen's Association and was president of the group in 1958.

Menasha Native
He is past president of the Home-School Association at St. Mary Catholic Church, Kaukauna, and is chairman of the speakers bureau for the Appleton Serra Club which takes in the entire Fox Cities area. Also, Beck has been an instructor in the Dale Carnegie sales course and has been a voluntary instructor in a life insurance course at Kaukauna, Appleton and St. Mary (Menasha) high schools.

Beck was born in Menasha on Aug. 22, 1922. He attended Menasha public schools and graduated from Menasha High School. He later attended Layton School of Art in Milwaukee. Beck is married and has four children — two boys and two girls — ranging in age from 2 to 14 years.

Parallel Parking Test Will Be Conducted in Appleton

2 Blocks of W. College Avenue To be Used as Survey Location

In the near future, the City of Appleton will conduct a front-to-back parallel parking test on two blocks of West College Avenue.

The test, originally suggested last fall, was postponed due to the Walnut Street sewer construction.

At Tuesday night's public safety meeting, Police Chief Earl O. Wolff was instructed to "have something ready" for the next meeting.

Officials want to find out what advantages, if any, the parallel parking has over the present angle parking on the avenue.

Eventual Determination
Eventually, a determination will have to be made by city officials whether to continue angle parking after College Avenue is reconstructed.

The type of parking to be on the avenue has been a controversial matter with most merchants favoring angle parking.

However, police and safety agencies have recommended parallel parking as the best type.

Merchants feel a change from angle to parallel will eliminate too many parking spaces.

M. B. Wood, representing the Appleton Chamber of Commerce, attended the meeting and told the committee the business community would favor a type of parking that would provide no less than the present number of spaces.

At the same time, Wood said the Chamber would have representation at all future public safety committee meetings.

Ald. Robert Stumpf (9th), committee chairman, said he was glad to have a Chamber representative present. "If something comes up which is of interest to the committee and the businessmen, we will have better liaison," Stumpf said.

Madison Plan
The committee indicated interest in the type of parallel parking in effect in downtown Madison and authorized Police Chief Earl O. Wolff and City Planner-Traffic Engineer Walter Rasmussen to check it.

In other action, the committee referred to Rasmussen a petition, signed by 75 residents, requesting that heavy truck traffic be removed from Meade Street and routed onto Ballard Road.

Read, but did not act on, a communication from the Women Activities Council requesting that a city safety committee be appointed.

'Stolen Car' Turns Out to be 'Case of Mistaken Identity'

It's apparently not too uncommon for police to receive reports of stolen cars that aren't.

It happened Tuesday night when a N. Durkee Street resident reported his car, with keys in the ignition, stolen from the southside of Appleton. He described the make of car, and police were alerted.

The car was found in a parking spot a few feet from the original parking area. It had, it developed, been taken from an automobile garage attendant who had been sent to the neighborhood to pick up a customer's car. He wasn't in the car too long before he realized he had the wrong car. He returned it to what he thought was the same parking space.

Detectives said today the incident has been repeated on several occasions where service attendants take the wrong car. Often, according to one detective, the attendants do not discover the mistake until the car has been serviced and re-delivered to the "customer."

Funds Provided For 2 Summer Math Teachers

$1,200 Will Come From Aids Provided Appleton From State

The Appleton Board of Education Monday approved a $1,200 fund transfer to provide for two additional mathematics teachers in the summer school program.

Supt. of Schools Royce E. Kurtz asked that the money be transferred to the summer school account from aids received from the state for the class to emotionally disturbed children. The aids were received for the first time this year.

Kurtz said there are waiting lists for some summer school classes, principally in the area of mathematics.

In other action the board — Approved two proposed gifts from the Class of 1964 to Appleton High School. The gift will be either a copying machine for the library or a record player for the records donated to the library by the Class of 1963.

Released From Contract
—Released John H. Belonger, Wilson Junior High School instrumental music teacher, from his 1964-65 contract to accept a grant to complete his master's degree at the University of Southern California.

—Heard a progress report on construction of Einstein Junior High School from Director of Business Affairs William Knuth. Construction of Florida Avenue from Meade to Drew has started, Knuth said. Construction workers now are gaining access to the site through adjoining property belonging to the Hoffman Company Inc., general contractor, but will use Florida Avenue as soon as it is completed.

The city will install storm and sanitary sewers, water mains and grade and gravel the streets bordering the school site to the south and west this year in an accelerated program, he said.

If the weather continues favorable, the building will be at least partially completed so that classes can begin there in the fall of 1965, Knuth said.

Council Committee Backs Stand Against Easy Jobs for Firemen Hurt in Outside Employment

A general crackdown on Appleton firemen requesting "light duty" after being injured on outside jobs (moonlighting) was backed by the city council's public safety committee Tuesday night.

The problem was aired recently at a meeting of the fire and police commission, Fire Chief Roland Kuehn and other city officials.

Before it, the public safety committee had a report from a physician that a fireman — injured on a non-city job recently — was fit to return to his former position within the fire department.

However, Kuehn said it was his understanding the man should start on lighter work and eventually return to full duty at his old job.

"We Don't Want Him"
"If a man who is injured on a second job cannot go back to his old fulltime city job, then we don't want him," commented Ald. Robert Stumpf (9th), committee chairman.

He said the personnel committee was in the process of putting such a policy in writing for consideration by the council.

"From what I hear we are getting too many captains answering the telephone for the fire department," commented Ald. Arthur Mueller (19th). He said this was because several men had requested so-called light duty because of their physical condition.

"Yes, and it's not fair to the taxpayers," injected Stumpf. Stumpf suggested that any fireman injured on an outside job should stay home until completely recovered and can assume his regular city job.

Valley Scout Council Elects J. P. Buchanan

Paper Company Executive Named At Annual Meeting

James P. Buchanan, assistant director of planning, Marathon, a division of American Can Co., was elected president of Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America, at the organization's annual meeting Tuesday.

Re-elected vice presidents

Rev. Leonard Ziemer Head of Appleton Ministerial Association

The Rev. Leonard Ziemer, pastor of First English Lutheran Church, has been elected president of the Appleton Ministerial Association.

Also elected Monday were the Rev. James Vahey, pastor of St. James Methodist Church, vice president, and the Rev. Byron Epps, pastor of Fox Valley Baptist Church, secretary-treasurer.

Appleton Police Chief Earl Wolff spoke at the meeting

Kuehn explained that complete records are kept on all the men, including medical histories involving injuries incurred while not working for the city. In this way, he said, the city would not have to be responsible for a recurrence of an off-duty injury a man might suffer while on his fire department job.

"As of a few weeks ago, six men on the department were looking for light duty and two were captains," Stumpf commented.

"The chief has a problem here and it is up to this committee to back him up," Stumpf added.

Committee members agreed.

Postpone Hearing On Teamster Charges Against Appleton

The hearing by the Wisconsin Employment Relations Board (WERB) into unfair labor practice charges preferred against the city by Teamsters Local 563 has been changed to June 10.

Morris Slaveny, WERB chairman, made the announcement at Madison today. Originally, the hearing had been set for next Wednesday morning at the city hall.

The postponement was at the request of City Atty. Frederick Froehlich who cited previous commitments of parties who are to appear in behalf of the city.

Police Baffled Dirt Digging Vandals Return to Crime Scene

Police in two of the Fox Cities are at a loss to explain the motives of energetic vandals who are digging up backyards and square shovels.

Last Friday, the diggers piled dirt from their work on the back porch of the Marlin Buss home, 419 Third St., Neenah.

Holes vary in size from a spadeful to over two feet deep. Often the dirt is tossed in bushes. Most of the residents have also reported the vandals dig a long trench in the lawn.

A resident in the 206 block of Second Street in Neenah told Neenah police he saw youngsters digging in his yard last Friday night. They fled.

Appleton EUB Pastor Elected College Trustee

The Rev. Frank Dauner, pastor of Emmanuel Evangelical United Brethren Church, Appleton, was elected to the board of trustees of North Central College, Naperville, Ill., during the recent annual session of the Wisconsin Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, held in Milwaukee.

North Central College is a liberal arts college supported by the Evangelical United Brethren Church. Its present student body numbers about 1,000. The college will soon finish its 100th year of operation.

North Central College is fully accredited and approved by the North Central Association, the Association of American Universities and the American Association of University Women.

The college is a member of the Association of American Colleges and the American Council on Education. The School of Music is a member of the National Association of Schools of Music.

The Rev. Mr. Dauner is a graduate of North Central College. He will return to the campus June 6 and 7 to participate in commencement activities.

Kool-Aid, Cats Make Day Exciting for Fire Fighters

Make room in the archives of fire fighting history for a jug of Kool-Aid.

Appleton firemen were called to the corner of Jackson and Cahmet streets about 8 a.m. today where it was reported an automobile engine was on fire.

Firefighters were bent to the "punch," however, by a passerby who happened to have a jug of Kool-Aid. Witnesses said the unidentified passerby went up to the flaming engine and poured his jug of red Kool-Aid over the burning engine. He then disappeared.

The owner of the car is Mrs. Lorna Wade, 908 N. Mason St. The car was being repaired by a mechanic who said gasoline ignited in the engine while the car was being pushed.

Firemen Tuesday had their hands full with a trapped cat and a curious dog named "Blackie" who got himself locked in a bathroom at 2123 N. Appleton St., the home of Mrs. Helen Thomas.

Firemen had to pry a second story window on N. Appleton Street to free Blackie from his prison. The door had blown shut snapping a spring in the lock.

At 545 N. Ida St., firemen rescued a cat which had been trapped between the screen and inside window of a home. Firemen lifted the screen, then opened the window to allow the cat back into the house. No one was home and neighbors called the fire department when the cat began making noise. The "come in" was accepted by Mrs. Mattie Holm.

Post-Crescent Buys Milwaukee Weekly Paper

Purchase of the North Star, a suburban weekly newspaper distributed in the northern section of the city of Milwaukee, was announced today by the Post-Crescent of Appleton. It is the second suburban weekly in the Milwaukee area to be bought by the firm, the West Allis Star having been acquired in January.

The paper was purchased from North Star, Inc. of which Robert W. Wiesian has been publisher and editor since the paper was founded two years ago. Wiesian will remain as editor.

V. I. Minahan, president of the Appleton-based publishing and broadcasting firm, commented that "the new Star in the Milwaukee area will make both papers a stronger voice in their respective communities."

Appleton May Form Parking Commission

Charter Ordinance Forming Unit to be Presented Council

A charter ordinance calling for creation of an Appleton Parking Commission will be introduced in the common council next week.

This was agreed to Tuesday night by the welfare - ordinance and public safety committees during separate meetings at city hall.

Ald. Mrs. Dorothy Stillings (7th) explained during the welfare - ordinance committee meeting that a parking commission, rather than a utility, is being proposed.

"We are planning to submit a model ordinance with some variations which would give the commission jurisdiction over matters dealing with parking, lots and meters," Mrs. Stillings said.

She explained the parking commission would make recommendations to the council which would have the final say.

Commission Members

It has been proposed that the parking commission consist of the mayor, a member of the public safety committee, an alderman at large and two citizen members. All would be appointed by the mayor with confirmation of the council.

The citizen members would serve three year terms and the aldermen one year.

Ald. Robert Stumpf (9th), public safety committee chairman, told his group he was aware the charter ordinance was being prepared.

"I think we're finally ready to set up a parking commission," Stumpf said, "with our parking program as big as it is, we need one."

Registration Set for Summer Program at OSC

OSHKOSH — Registration day for both the eight-week and 12-week summer sessions at Wisconsin State College-Oshkosh will be Monday, June 8, according to Dr. Raymond Ramsden, vice president of academic affairs at the institution.

Registration will be between 8 a.m. and noon and 1 to 4 p.m. Classes in both sessions begin at 7 a.m. on Tuesday June 9. The eight-week session closes July 31 and the 12-week session on Aug. 28. Fees for a full program are $62.50 for the eight-week session and $87.50 for the 12-week session.

Summer students may register for up to eight hours of credit in the shorter session and 12 credits in the longer session. Classes run from 7 a.m. for the first class until 4:10 p.m. when the last class ends.

Fox Valley Lutheran Clubs End School Year With Annual Outings

Fox Valley Lutheran High School clubs are closing the school year with their annual spring picnics.

The Future Ministers' and Teachers' Clubs held a joint picnic May 20 at Erb Park. Faith Haferman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Haferman, Wisconsin Rapids, president of the Teachers' Club, was in charge of refreshments. The entertainment was covered by the officers of the Ministers' Club.

The Service Club sponsored its annual picnic at Erb Park Tuesday with the heads of the various sections making the arrangements. The students played baseball and were served refreshments.

The members of the FVL Student Council dined at Reetz's restaurant for their banquet Monday. Sharon Dobberstein, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Armand Dobberstein, New London; and Lynn Freund, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Freund, Neenah, made the arrangements.

Following Fire

Emergency Equipment Arrives; Whiting Paper Back in Operation

MENASHA — George A. Whit, emergency equipment arrived Tuesday morning. Workmen la-Whiting Paper Co., which was bored through two days and nearly closed down by a fire in the plant boiler room Saturday, said this morning that "practically full operations" have been resumed with the arrival and installation of emergency equipment from Milwaukee.

The Whiting company lost 75 per cent of its operating ability in the fire which completely destroyed boilers and furnaces which produce steam for manufacturing purposes.

25 Per Cent Capacity
The company was operating at only 25 per cent Monday and did no manufacturing. Whit said the portable damage to plant equipment by fire was estimated at close to $100,000. Loss in operations

A Fish Pond at Home Mutual Insurance Company's new building was stocked Tuesday with 100 pounds of brook and rainbow trout. Staff members looked on as Gordon Bubolz, company president, foreground center, and the Rev. W. E. Lange pour a transfer can of fish into the pond. At right is Mrs. Lange. The Langes operate a trout farm in Waupaca County. Bubolz said the pond is for beautification of the grounds and to help stimulate interest in private ponds to supplement public facilities. School Board Okays Work Equipment Bids

$25,339 Cost Includes Kitchen Needs And Blacktopping; Others Are Deferred

The Appleton Board of Education Monday approved bids totaling $25,339 for items ranging from kitchen equipment to blacktopping, and deferred action on other low bids totaling $20,018.

Low bids accepted by the board were:

—$10,642 from Air Conditioning Engineering Corp., Green Bay, for purchase and installation of kitchen equipment for Einstein Junior High School.

—$4,465 from Badger Highways Co. for blacktopping at Johnston Elementary School, and $2,625 from the same company for blacktopping at Morgan School.

—$3,615 from Cyclone Fence Co. for fencing, backstops and extension wings at Johnston School.

—$482 from J. J. Stangel Hardware Co. for an extension at Madison Junior High School.

The board accepted the low bid of $1,150 from Valley Business Machines, Appleton, for 10 new manual typewriters, and the second low bid of $2,990 from the same company for 10 new electric typewriters. By accepting both bids from the company, the board had received a combined bid of $4,000 for the 20 machines.

A representative of Appleton Business Machines, which submitted the low bid of $2,400 for the 10 electric typewriters, spoke to the board before the decision was made. Supt. of Schools Royce Kurtz listed the choice of the high school business department, which gave his machines as third choice, the ones to be

Board Rejects Insurance Advisor Plan

The Appleton Board of Education decided Monday that it need not appoint a professional insurance counselor for the public schools at this time.

When the board's counselor died last summer, the board accepted the offer of Arthur J. Coffey of Coffey Insurance Agency, Appleton, to serve temporarily as insurance advisor without pay.

Coffey, who has been the agent writing the school system's insurance, said the insurance program is in proper order and he did not believe the services of a paid counselor were needed.

Continuation Suggested
Supt. of Schools Royce E. Kurtz and Director of Business Affairs William Knuth recommended that the board continue the present arrangement for another year and then evaluate it. They said they feel appointment of an insurance counselor is not necessary at this time.

Mrs. George Munro, board president, said the previous counselor was employed before Knuth had joined the school system, and at that time work on the insurance program was needed.

Board member Victor Sumnicht suggested that it might be a good idea to employ a counselor from time to time in the future to evaluate and review the schools' insurance program. Kurtz agreed.

purchased as second choice and another make as first choice.

A purchase price of $790 from E. W. Shannon Office Supply, Appleton, for 20 used manual typewriters was accepted.

The board withheld a decision on several items, on which bids were taken, at Kurtz' request until the administration completes a list of priorities on items which can be included in the 1964 budget. These included blacktopping at Foster and Columbus schools and a backstop at Franklin School.

Joint Discussion

Kurtz asked for a joint discussion between the board and the city recreation department on replacing the blacktop at Columbus School. He said it was broken up when the recreation department used a heavy street sweeper on it instead of the school system's small tractor. The low bid for this blacktopping was $1,110.

The board deferred action on bids for a multiple channel tape dictation unit for high school shorthand classes. Bids from the same company for three different systems ranged from $1,610.75 to $2,167.45.

The board also deferred action on bids for sewing room cabinetry at Roosevelt and Wilson junior high schools. Four bids ranged from $7,648 to $10,184, and only the high bidder could assure having the equipment installed in time for the start of school next fall, Kurtz said.

Refurnishing of the sewing rooms is part of a three-year program for updating facilities in the two junior high schools. The home arts room and the boys' shower rooms were remodeled during the last two years. Kurtz will investigate other possibilities on the sewing room remodeling before the board makes a decision.

TREASURE ISLAND FOOD DEPARTMENT IS THE OASIS IN THE LAND OF MILK AND MONEY

TOTAL SAVINGS PROGRAM

Because the bountiful state of Wisconsin is famous as the dairyland of the nation, and because Wisconsin also has one of the highest per capita incomes in the nation, it is oftentimes referred to as "the land of milk and money." People in Wisconsin have a high regard for both commodities and that is why the Treasure Island Food Department has become an important factor in the lives of so many people. Did you know that the average family can save as much as $200 per year if they purchase all of their weekly grocery orders at Treasure Island? To save $200 a year, normally, you would have to invest $5,000 in a savings account at a bank paying 4% per year interest. At Treasure Island Food Department, you can save the same $200 a year without investing one red cent of your savings. Treasure Island's Total Savings Program has reduced the cost of food in Appleton. All you need to do to get your share of savings is to start shopping at the bargain lovin' Treasure Island Food Department.

Appleton May Join In Regional Library

Board to Send Representative to Discussion Meeting in Early June

Appleton Library Board Tuesday moved a step closer to participation in a proposed regional library system.

The board approved sending a representative to a meeting of northeastern Wisconsin library boards early next month. Objectives and policy of the proposed system will be discussed by a steering committee at that meeting.

Initial study of a regional inter-library reciprocal system began a year ago following adoption by the Wisconsin Library Association of new state standards for public libraries. Gordon Bebeau, chief librarian, Appleton, said new federal legislation passed this year—the Library Services and Construction Act—could have a significant effect on development of regional systems.

“Needs System”

In his librarian’s report, Bebeau made a point regarding system development: “The im-

Zip Code Sign Gives Welcome To Gronouski

Postmaster General Arrives at Oshkosh For Homecoming

OSHKOSH—“Well, Zip Code and all” was the reply Postmaster General John Gronouski gave as he spotted the large welcome home sign posted at the airport terminal here as he arrived about 11:30 a.m. today for a two-day homecoming observance.

The sign was in the shape of a large air mail letter, complete with stamp and envelope border. In the return address corner were the words, “From the citizens of Oshkosh, Wis. 54901.” The address part was lettered, “Welcome home, John, 20260,” the postmaster general’s Washington Zip Code number.

Postmaster General Gronouski, who was raised in Oshkosh, was greeted by council president John Fitzgerald and county board chairman Joseph Drexler plus representatives from Wisconsin State College-Oshkosh and its senior class to whom he will give the commencement address Thursday morning, the Oshkosh Area Chamber of Commerce, Associated Industries of Oshkosh, the county Democratic Party and the special homecoming committee planning a breakfast to honor him Thursday.

Throughout the entire handshaking reception at the airport, the postmaster general kept smoking his pipe.

He was brought here in a plane arranged by the Neenah-Menasha Chamber of Commerce which is honoring him this noon at a luncheon at the Menasha Elks Club. He then will swear in Postmaster John Dachel of Neenah and tour the Neenah and Menasha post offices.

Gov. John Reynolds will be main speaker at a banquet at Lourdes High School here tonight honoring Gronouski.

Priest Will Speak at St. John Graduation

Father Frances Rose, Whitelaw, to Address 67 Graduates at Sunday Night Exercises

LITTLE CHUTE—The Rev. Frances Rose, pastor of St. Michael’s Church, Whitelaw, will be the speaker for commencement exercises for the 67 St. John High School graduates at 8 p.m. Sunday in St. John High School Church.

Father Rose was ordained by Bishop Paul P. Rhode in St. Francis Xavier Cathedral, Green Bay, May 31, 1939. He graduated from St. Nazarian Seminary and St. John’s University and Seminary, Collegeville, Minn.

He served as assistant at Sacred Heart parish, Shawano, and superintendent of St. Joseph Orphanage before his first assignment as pastor in 1947 when he headed St. Denis’ parish, Shiocton, with a mission at St. Lawrence, Navarino.

Priests’ Choir

Father Rose assumed duties at Whitelaw in 1957, has been a member of the Priests’ Choir since 1939 and its director since 1945. Father Rose will speak following the processional and a hymn. Diplomas and awards will be presented by the Rev. Martin Vosbeek, parish pastor.

Preceding Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, graduates will offer an Act of Consecration. Minor awards will be presented at a 9:30 a.m. Friday program with major winners named at the graduation exercises. Graduates are:

Fines Still Being Taken

Committee Hears Police Chief’s Recommendations

Someone is still “lapping” the parking meter ticket fine boxes in downtown Appleton.

Police Chief Earl O. Wolff discussed the problem with the council’s public safety committee Tuesday night.

It was estimated more than 100 small envelopes containing fine money have been fished out of the 30 metal boxes.

Ask Changes

Chief Wolff recommended a few changes in the metal containers, which he said would enable the tickets to drop to the bottom.

One problem now is that the tickets, measuring 5½ inches in length, stack up in the fine boxes, making it easier for someone to pluck them out.

“I think if we made a few minor changes on the design of the box, it will alleviate some of the problem,” Wolff said.

Also appearing before the committee was a salesman for a firm which makes “a bigger and better” fine box, selling at $22 each.

Still Free

Police have been unable to catch the person or persons doing the pilfering.

Residents who paid fines by dropping the ticket into the boxes have complained when they receive a letter from the police.

Police Report Bird in Hand

An Appleton policeman who rescued a robin from a chimney Tuesday afternoon reported to his superiors, “I blew the dust from his eyes, patted the robin on the tail, and he (the robin) took off like a big bird.”

Patrolman Edward Arft filed the report on an assignment at the home of Mrs. D. E. Hanke, 117 River Drive, where the bird had become ensnared in the dusty chimney. Patrolman Arft reached up the chimney and caught the bird in his hand and set it free.

Driving Violations Cost Almond Motorist $225

WAUPACA—Allen G. Johnson, 23, route 2, Almond, was fined $225 Monday for leaving the scene of an accident and driving too fast for conditions.

Johnson pleaded guilty to both charges when he appeared before Municipal Justice George Whalen.

Waupaca County sheriff’s officers arrested Johnson early Sunday morning after he was involved in a traffic accident at Gard’s Corners, west of here.

department inquiring when they intend to meet their obligation.

An estimated 1,100 to 1,200 packets with fine money are collected a month from the courts, Wolff estimated.

The committee will study the feasibility of changing the fine boxes.

DeBruins Still Unsure of Son’s Release Report

Validity of Dispatch Not Confirmed by State Department

The parents of Eugene DeBruin, rural Kaukauna flier shot down over Laos Sept. 5, still have received no confirmation of a May 16 Associated Press report that their son would be released.

Mrs. Joseph DeBruin, route 3, Kaukauna, told the Post-Crescent Tuesday that the last word received on their son was a May 16 telephone call from the Post-Crescent quoting the dispatch, which said Prince Souphanouvong, pro-communist Pathet Lao leader, had stated DeBruin would be released soon.

Since that time, Mr. and Mrs. DeBruin have been awaiting State Department word on the validity of the report.

Sen. Nelson Contacted

Sen. Gaylord Nelson, whose office has been working with the DeBruins to obtain information on their son, told the Post-Crescent Tuesday all he knew of the release report was what he’s read in the newspapers.

Sen. Nelson said that he had been handling the DeBruin

Nelson Wants U. S. Disengagement From Military Activity in Viet Nam

Senator’s Views Come Under Fire of Fellow Democrats, Lawrence Faculty, at Reception

BY MARK E. OLIVA
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Sen. Gaylord Nelson’s views on U. S. military activities in Viet Nam came under the fire of some fellow Democrats, mainly Lawrence College faculty members, at a coffee for the senator here Tuesday.

When quizzed on his stand, Nelson said he thought rather than “extend or expand U. S. activities in Viet Nam, an orderly arrangement to disengage ourselves there should be made.”

case personally, but that it was in the hands of a secretary. He said he was only partially familiar with the case, but would attempt to determine the value of the Pathet Lao statement regarding investment.

The Associated Press today also began checking the report’s source and current status of the DeBruin case.

ing extension of Viet Nam operations.

Nelson replied, “That might be the right position — that may be the position now — but I don’t favor continuation of operations over an indefinite period.”

Worried About Asia

One of the faculty members asked if the U. S. let Viet Nam go communist, wouldn’t other areas — Laos, Thailand, finally Burma — also go.

Nelson said, “When the established government can’t secure the support of the people, it doesn’t belong. Any move in Viet Nam has to be an operation of the people. If the U. S. is responsible for the politics there, the U. S. is governing there,” Nelson said.

Nelson added the cost of Viet Nam operations was becoming too high for the U. S. to continue operations practically over an indefinite period.

Lawrence teacher Jim Dana, host to the coffee hour, asked Nelson if perhaps continued operations in Viet Nam, regardless of cost, over a long period of time, might not be a good investment.

Not Indefinitely

A second Lawrence faculty member quoted an aide of President Lyndon Johnson as favor-

Park Clean-Up Program Set by Village Jaycees

LITTLE CHUTE — Members of the Jaycees voted Monday night to begin a clean-up campaign at Doyle Park with volunteers to assemble at the park at 6 p.m. with rakes, shovels and other equipment.

The Jaycees are planning a major program of raking, spreading around shrubs, trimming hedges, painting and other projects. Paul Van Zeeland and Roman Salm will head the detail and will arrange future clean-up nights after it is determined what can be covered in a single effort.

Roger Vander Wist was named to head a committee of Jaycee volunteers to assist the summer recreation director in setting up and carrying out a more extensive recreation program. Approval was given to setting the second and fourth Mondays as official meeting nights, members to be notified by mail when a meeting location is determined. Board members are currently investigating possible locations.

Freshmen Speech Winner Named

KAUKAUNA — Linda Demare was named first place winner in the freshman speech contest held at Kaukauna Junior High School and as a result received a ribbon and will have her name engraved on a plaque which will remain in the school.

Others winning ribbons were Anne Grogan, second; Lynn Cherkasky, third and Nancie Haen, fourth. Also reaching the finals were Kay Van Zummeren and Beverly Hennes. Serving as judge was Mrs. Kenneth Roloff, English instructor at Kaukauna High School.

Top High School Students Named At Little Chute

LITTLE CHUTE — Paul Wulterkins has been named valedictorian and Irene Ruys salutatorian of the 1964 graduating class at St. John High School, according to Sister Mary Benata, principal.

Wulterkins has been the top academic student of his class during his four years at school. He has been a member of the National Honor Society two years and on the school honor roll during all four years.

Miss Ruys was named to the National Honor Society as a junior, been on the honor roll for four years and served as president of the sophomore class. Both have been active in many school activities and clubs. The two will be honored at commencement exercises Sunday.

Appleton Flag Day Parade to Feature Nearly 70 Units

Nearly 70 units have agreed to participate in the Appleton Flag Day parade on June 13.

Members of the parade committee met in city hall where they learned 26 marching units, 25 floats and 17 bands will be in the parade.

Appleton Xavier High School, Kaukauna and Oconto High schools and the Kimberly Community bands will march.

Public Hearing Set Tuesday on Zoning Change

KAUKAUNA — A public hearing will be held by the common council at 7 p.m. Tuesday on the rezoning of a lot on Hendricks Avenue from Class A residential to local shopping district. The planning commission has recommended the rezoning after residents of the area approved rezoning petitions circulated by the party concerned. The request for rezoning was made on behalf of a food center which desires to enlarge the business establishment. To date no objections have been received to the proposal.

State Democrats Pushing for Clear Civil Rights Position

Wisconsin GOP Favors Program to Protect All

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Wisconsin Democrats are aiming to make the Republicans with a loud and clear declaration on civil rights.
Assemblyman Norman C. Anderson of Madison, chairman of the platform committee for the June 19-20 convention in Milwaukee, said Tuesday in an interview that Gov. John W. Reynolds "has a religious feeling" about civil rights.
He said he expected the Democrats "will say a lot more" than did the civil rights plank adopted at the Republican state convention last weekend.
GOP Delegates
Some GOP delegates protested the civil rights stand as not strong enough. It reaffirmed the GOP policy of favoring "a program to protect the civil liberties of all people."
David Fries, Watertown, chairman of the human rights subcommittee for the Democratic convention, said he felt the committee members "would be interested in taking an extremely strong position."
"I feel it will be something the governor and the legislative candidates can be proud of, and one which civil rights and religious groups can applaud," Fries said in answer to questions.
Two Directions
"I think we will come under fire from two directions," Fries said. "There is a substantial number of bigots in the Democratic party, and probably there will be a group from the Congress of Racial Equality with a different viewpoint."
Warren Knowles, the Republican candidate for governor, said Tuesday at Eau Claire that if elected he would look for support and cooperation for his economic growth program from businessmen.
Speaking to a group of businessmen, he outlined steps he said the state could take to get the support of the business community.

GOP Turns Down Slate for Sen. Goldwater

Civil Rights Foe Is Nominated by Florida Democrats

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A delegate slate pledged to Sen. Barry Goldwater was turned down by Republicans, and a governor sworn to erect barriers against civil rights was nominated by Democrats in Tuesday's Florida primary.
Goldwater's chances of Florida support at the national convention were not erased. But they were weakened by election of a slate headed by a man who made no bones about current disenchantment with the Arizona conservative.
Appeared on TV
"Goldwater appeared on television and radio extensively in the last week and campaigned against us," said Tom Fairchild Brown of Tampa, state Republican chairman who heads the winning slate.
"I feel we have a mandate from the people to go to California and represent Florida the best we can. Whether the delegates will be in favor of Goldwater when we get there may be another matter."
Brown's slate will send at least 25 of the 34 Florida delegates to the convention. The six other spots remained in doubt.
It was a big victory for Brown, who had led his delegation in a fight for the state party leadership against Rep. William Cramer, R-Fla., who headed the slate pledged to Goldwater.
An Associated Press poll had shown most of the Brown slate loyal to Goldwater, but Brown now called it a "no-preference delegation."
Major Nominated
Haydon Burns, 52-year-old mayor of Jacksonville and a tough-talking figure of the civil rights bill, won the Democratic nomination for governor. That means almost certain election in November against Rep. Charles Hollis, a state legislator.
Burns won by a margin of more than 169,000 votes over Mayor Robert King High of Miami, who had promised to enforce any civil rights law enacted by Congress and signed by President Johnson.
Racial violence hit Burns city of Jacksonville during the heated campaign, which was waged almost entirely on the rights issue.

Farm Boy Is Committed to State School

Youth Admitted Shooting Parents According to Plan

JEFFERSON (AP)—Gerald Krueger, a 16-year-old farm boy who said he shot his parents to death "because they treated me like a baby," was committed Tuesday to an indefinite term at the State School for Boys at Wailes.
Krueger, of Waterloo, told authorities he killed his father, Roland, 47, and his mother, Lilian, 45, with a .22 caliber rifle, and concealed their bodies 10 days ago in the culmination of a plan he had been considering two years.
Ruled Delinquent
The boy was ruled a delinquent and ordered committed by Juvenile Court Judge Charles E. Kading, who refused to allow Krueger to be tried as an adult on murder charges.
Krueger was made a ward of the State Department of Public Welfare and will be confined until he reaches the age of 21. After that, the department is authorized to release him or petition the court for two-year extensions of the confinement.
In a letter accompanying the order, Kading told the department:
"Strong Feeling
"Many people will not agree with the findings that punishment as such is ineffective in deterring other wrongdoers whose acts result from emotional upset or mental illness; that rehabilitation of this boy is of paramount concern.
"There is, and will continue to be, strong feeling that a degree of punishment must accompany disposition in a case as horrifying as this one."
Kading also instructed that the boy's treatment should be brought to the realization that society "will not tolerate antisocial, uncontrolled behavior."

Polaris Corp. Meeting Delayed By Court Order

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A shareholders' meeting for Friday to act on the proposed ouster of the top management of the $40 million Polaris Corp. has been delayed by Circuit Judge Robert M. Curley until he can read briefs.
Curley ordered the delay at a hearing Tuesday on a motion by corporation president John H. Kelly to ban the meeting called by former president Eliot Fitch. Two groups are contending for control of the firm.
"I am loathe to inject the court into this proxy dispute," the judge said, "but because of the multiplicity of actions it is only fair that the shareholders be advised properly."

Rockefeller Confident of Another Win

California Vote Vital to Drive Toward Convention

BY JACK BELL
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller apparently believes he has wielded a responsibility key that will unlock the doors to victory in California's vital Republican presidential primary next Tuesday.
The New York governor has tossed overboard the underdog role he played expertly in winning the May 15 Oregon primary. In that contest he damaged beyond practical repair the potential candidacy of U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.
Rockefeller now is reported highly confident he can handily defeat Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., in next week's voting and thus blight the Arizona conservative's burgeoning drive for the 665 convention votes needed for the presidential nomination.
Public Prediction
Rockefeller's public prediction that if he wins California's 86 votes in Tuesday's balloting he will have 400 convention votes on the first ballot is privately chalked up in his own camp as a booby.
Even if he can field all of New York's 83 votes—of which there is some doubt—Oregon's 18 and California's 86 would give him just 186. He probably would go over the 200 mark but would still be a distant second to Goldwater on the first countdown at the San Francisco meeting.
But his victory in Oregon and his confidence that he can win in California have restored the governor's obviously faltering faith—which he never conceded publicly—that he could win the nomination for himself.
Nobody around him was willing to admit it aloud, but until Oregon came along and California began to look good, the Rockefeller operation was regarded by the political pros as little more than a desperate effort to stop Goldwater.
The pros are not ready quite yet to go along, but Rockefeller's people are talking optimistically of getting the nomination for their candidate. They are bearing down on the point that the governor really believes he can beat President Johnson in November. They are suggesting that Goldwater and some other potential nominees have no such faith in their prowess.
Rockefeller told a Young Republican audience in the swank Beverly Hilton Hotel Tuesday night that the issue in his head-on battle with Goldwater is "whether the Republican party is going to move forward in the mainstream of public life or whether it will pull off into a small eddy, pulled there by a small minority in the party."
Rockefeller got polite but not exactly enthusiastic applause when he said that Goldwater—"my competitor or whatever you call him"—does not stand within the framework of Republican responsibility as defined by (former) President Eisenhower.

Escapee Captured Within 7 Minutes

LA CROSSE (AP)—Police needed only seven minutes Tuesday to apprehend Iowa reformatory escapee Gerald Fitzgerald, 25.

They took him into custody at a Western Union office where he had gone to pick up money authorities said was wired to him by his parents. The arrest was made at 12:22 p.m., just seven minutes after an alert had been broadcast on the police radio system.
Also taken into custody, in a car which police said had been stolen, was Fitzgerald's brother, Kenneth. He was held for investigation on a charge of aiding and abetting an escape.

Referee in Mourning Over Stadium Disaster

BY ANIBAL ARGUELLO

MONTevideo, Uruguay (AP)—The referee at the disastrous soccer game in Peru is mourning at home with his wife and two daughters for a week.
"Then I want to see my priest," said Angel Eduardo Pazo. "I want to be sure the fault wasn't mine, like some Lima newspapers are saying. It has been so terrible."
"But I will remain a referee," added Pazo, 38, a martial worker who officiates at soccer games in his spare time.
Argentina's team was leading Peru's 1-0 in the pre-Olympic game in Lima Sunday when Pazo discovered a Peruvian player had committed a foul. A spectator jumped onto the field and ran toward Pazo.
Pazo dragged the man off but other fans poured onto the field and Pazo called off the game. Ristling began.
"The police had to use tear gas because the water hoses didn't work," Pazo said.
A frenzied push for the exit gates began, but four of the seven at the north end of the stadium were locked. Body upon body was crushed against the barriers. Those who failed or stumbled were trampled. There were 326 dead and hundreds more injured—the sports world's greatest tragedy.

3 Policemen
Peruvian authorities disclosed Tuesday that three of the dead were policemen killed by the mob. Rioters strangled a sergeant with his own necktie. An officer who tried to save him was thrown from the stadium wall to his death 30 feet below. A third policeman was thrown into the path of stampeding spectators and was trampled.
Pazo said he couldn't understand why the stadium gates were closed.
"Fifteen minutes before the game was to end, the gates to the stadium were open," he said. "Then they were closed. This doesn't make sense."
Crying as he talked, Pazo said, "I was correct in my call. There was no mistake. I called the game by the rules."
"An excellent referee, an all-around athlete, one hundred per cent honest," said the Montevideo newspaper El Pais.

Board Proposes Pay Raises for School Teachers

MADISON (AP)—The state's first fact-finding recommendations in a teachers' dispute proposed Tuesday pay increases ranging from $300 to $600 a year for Eau Claire's 636 public school teachers.
Former State Supreme Court Justice Emory Wingert, acting as a fact finder for the Wisconsin Employment Relations Board, said the teachers are professional people and should be paid professional salaries that are high enough to keep them on their jobs.
Wingert also suggested that the teachers receive $176 a year, rather than the $100 they now get, toward the payment of hospital and medical care insurance costing about $220.
The recommendations by Wingert are non-binding. He was named fact finder after the Eau Claire School Board and the Eau Claire Teachers Union reached an impasse in negotiations last December.
Wingert, in recommending that the increase be made retroactive to Jan. 1, 1964, proposed the teachers' pay be boosted to within one per cent of the median salary of 12 other cities of comparable size. The pay scales in the 12 communities had been used in the negotiations.

Swift Approval Given Request For Debt Hike

New Limit Would Be $324 Billion
Beginning July 1

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:
DEBT LIMIT: The House Ways and Means Committee has voiced swift approval of an administration proposal to hike the temporary debt limit from $315 billion to $324 billion and a key Republican opponent says he plans no attempt to cut the increase on the house floor.
Following Tuesday's action, the committee's ranking Republican, Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin said no attempt was made to cut the increase in the committee, and he plans none when the bill reaches the House floor next month.

"We tried that on two occasions without success," Byrnes said.
The administration proposal would establish the $324 billion level for a year starting July 1. Without new legislation, the debt limit would drop July 1 to the permanent level of $305 billion.
STASSEN: Harold E. Stassen has become the third Republican to take advantage of President Johnson's offer to give potential presidential candidates briefings on the world situation. Stassen termed helpful Tuesday's session at which Undersecretary of State George W. Ball and Deputy Secretary of Defense Cyrus R. Vance participated.
CONSTRUCTION: The House has passed 348 to 5 a $1,500,014, 506 appropriation bill to finance

PTA Editor Criticizes Movies, TV and Books

Producers and Publishers Charged With Exploiting American Children

BY G. K. HODENFIELD
CHICAGO (AP) — The American child is being exploited by magazine and book publishers and the producers of movies and television programs, says Mrs. Herman Grant, editor of the PTA Magazine.
"These people could do so very much for our children," she said in an interview today. "The tragic truth is that they really do so little."
Mrs. Grant spoke out on the final day of the 60th annual convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. Dismal Bore
"The movies have practically exhausted every aberration and deviation known to mankind," she said. "The only hopeful thing is that Hollywood may succeed in making depravity a dismal bore."
"Unfortunately, at the same time, they may make a bore switch out of many of the good and useful and elevating things in life."

Mrs. Grant said, "Television, in spite of its frequent promises to produce entertaining and instructive children's programs, remains a wasteland—and one mined with dangers to children. Mrs. Grant noted that many magazines have begun recently to feature discussions of schools and education. But, she said, if "these people were really serious about doing a service to children, they would refrain from their sensational and often misleading titles and editorial come-ons, their gimmicks and devices that make it evident they are less interested in presenting fact than in stirring up friction."
"When they want to increase circulation they follow a tried-and-true formula. First, they put in a reducing diet. If that doesn't do it, they tell the 16 ways to 'tease' a girl's hair. "And, if that doesn't work, they can always attack the schools."
Mrs. Grant leveled the same criticism at the publishers of many current books.

Shawano Land Suit Dismissed

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The portion of a suit seeking $400,000 in damages over the sale of six parcels of land in Shawano County was dismissed Tuesday by U. S. District Judge Robert E. Tolan.
The action was started in 1961 by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Popp of Milwaukee. It named Shawano County Dist. Atty. Frederic C. Eberlein, his wife, Elizabeth, and two businessmen as co-defendants. The dismissal was ordered because of lack of jurisdiction.
The Popp's claimed that remarks made by Eberlein at the sale of the property to satisfy income tax loans "chilled the bidding" and enabled the defendants to obtain the land at low prices.
Tolan declined to dismiss the

Wallace Asked to Speak in Georgia

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama has been approached about the possibility of addressing Georgia legislators next week, but Gov. Carl E. Sanders does not like the idea.
Three House members said they would invite the Alabama governor to speak Tuesday. Sanders, a racial moderate, frowned on any speech by the Alabama segregationist before the legislature.
action of the suit asking that the tax sale be set aside and the land returned to them. He denied the defense claim of lack of jurisdiction.
Other defendants in the suit are Clarence Blewer and Roy Dallman, both of Shawano, and Mrs. Doris Kontornas of Chicago, a half-sister of Popp's.

Shared Time Study Finished In Kimberly

Representatives of NEW Survey Similar Programs in Nation

KIMBERLY — Two U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare representatives left Kimberly today after making a study of the "shared time" program at John R. Garriga Junior High School.

In the "shared time" program, seventh and eighth graders from Holy Name of Jesus attend the public school on a half-day basis where they study mathematics, science, English, industrial arts and home economics. Kimberly's program is believed to be one of the largest in the country.

The new HEW (Health, Education and Welfare) representatives, Carl Scholonsky and William C. Bremer Jr., are studying similar programs throughout the country prior to compiling a report which will be reviewed by HEW Secretary Anthony Calabrese and submitted to a congressional committee.

"Dual Enrollment" — Preferring to call the program "dual enrollment," the visitors said they were making up decisions on the program, but are making an extensive survey of how the program began, why they were started, problems of administrative arrangements and other factors.

While in Kimberly, Scholonsky and Bremer interviewed administrators, teachers and students from both schools and the public.

They have no idea of the fu-

K-C Executive to Address Engineers

Boyd Payne, manager of management research and development at Kimberly-Clark Corp., Northwest Division, will speak at a meeting of the Engineering Council at 1:30 p.m. today in Branch, St. Mary's Community Center.

Payne, with the dates attached with Kimberly-Clark for 24 years, will speak on "Management Development."

One of their reports, whether it will be a study, indicate a more comprehensive study with recommendations as to whether it will remain purely informational. Prime concern is the workability of the program, effort, success, acceptance and details of establishment and administration and cost.

The pair refused to comment on the practicality of the program, its value or disadvantages for the program. The Ap-

Board Wants More Study On Annuities

Bookkeeping Costs Problem in Teacher Payroll Deductions

The Appleton Board of Education Monday asked for more study by the administration on the bookkeeping costs of making payroll deductions for teachers' annuities.

The board previously authorized the payroll department to make the deductions and forward them to the insurance carrier selected. It now is seeking a decision on which carrier will be used.

The board asked teachers to work with non-teaching employees to select an insurance carrier for the program. The Appleton Education Association insurance committee, in a letter received by the board Monday, said the best available program for teachers is the State Teachers Retirement System.

There are non-teaching employees who expressed interest in the annuity plan at this time, the committee asked permission for teachers to enter the state plan. Fifty-two teachers have indicated an interest.

The committee said this request was not an attempt to prevent other employees from benefiting from the annuity plan through commercial carriers, although non-teaching employees are not eligible to participate in the state teachers plan. The board previously had indicated it would prefer to have one insurance carrier for all employees participating.

The board discussed the possibility of business office costs

Roosevelt Students Say Farewells

Roosevelt Junior High School students — 146 of them — bid their ninth grade farewell at the annual party Friday evening in the school gym. 'Show Boat' was chosen as the party theme, with students and teachers combining their talents for a successful and of school affair.

The program began at 8 p.m., with an orchestra providing music and entertainment scheduled during intermissions.

Members of the student planning committee were Sue Jahn, Steve Grass, Vonnale Wolf, Terry Wenzel, Steve Rowe, Ann Schroeder, Dianne Luecke, Kent Johnson, Mike Nichols, Joan Redlin, Beverly French, Jean Dressler, Barbara Bauer and Steve Beyer.

Faculty members who worked on the program were Mrs. Floyd Boettcher, Don Bauer, Miss Shirley Wankey, William Pynch, Claire Radtke, Sam Trelongo, Francis Conrad, Orville Koepke, Raleigh Winter and Miss Addie Pfingston.

Showboat Tickets Were taken by Ronald Pack from Bob Dauner and Judy Litscher at the entry to the Roosevelt Junior High School gym Friday evening. Ninth graders, bidding farewell to their alma mater, parted from 8 to 10:30 p.m. Below, Jean Nabbefeld and Carole Jensen serve punch to Lois Kohl and Gary Nolan. (Post-Crescent Photos)

Sue Christianson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Christianson, 2000 N. Rankin St., entertained friends at a cocktail party before the ninth grade farewell at the school. Above, she offers snacks to Fred Ehardt, Steve Rowe, Karen Bravick, Fran Sager and Bill Lundt. At left, visiting at the party at the school, are Kent Johnson, Kathi Selle, Wayne Lutz and Charlene Beck.

Where do you think most of your bathtub. Put non-skid mats the fatal accidents of childhood in your tub and shower. and early adolescence take. Precautions against fire accidents: Be sure your wiring system is adequate for the load you are putting on it. Your fire department can help you here. Install one of the new inexpensive fire alarm systems. Again the fire department will advise you. Replace all frayed cords on electrical appliances. Be sure all fire places are protected with good fire screens. Destroy oily paint rags. Store inflammable products safely in a well-ventilated space. Be utterly firm about the no smoking in bed rule. Invest in several dry chemical fire extinguishers, and keep them handy.

Prevent Falls
Precautions for preventing falls: Be sure all small rugs are skidproof. Anchor them with small suction cups or a liquid spray. Repair wobbly legs on all chairs, sofas, tables, beds and ladders. Mop up wet floors immediately, and use non-skid floor wax. Be absolutely positive your stairs are well lighted, well banistered, uncluttered and non-skid. Protect toddlers from stair falls with a barrier gate. Have grab bars above tions: Don't use flame-type heaters, as they deplete the oxygen supply. Teach children that they may absolutely not play with the knobs on your gas stove. Keep bite-size toys and other small objects away from your little one. Do not leave a small child unattended in the tub even for a minute. Never leave the motor running in your car once you've put it in the garage. In spite of our very best efforts, there is just no such thing as a completely accident-proof house.

Stovepipe Collar Can Be Secured

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q In the basement, beside the furnace, there is an old victrola type heater, used to burn up rubbish and papers and occasionally to heat the basement. I have difficulty keeping the iron collar for the stovepipe cemented in the hole of the chimney. The patching cement cracks and falls off. Is there any other kind of cement I could use?

A Try using an asbestos cement, instead of the patching cement or boiler putty, good cement mortar or stiff clay.

Q Several years ago we covered the downstairs hall ceiling with a woven, canvas-like material. Now there is a large blister developing in one area where the material is loosening and beginning to "sag." How can we refasten this to the plaster before more of the material is pulled down?

A Make a slit across the loosened covering with a razor blade. Then work some wallpaper paste behind the material using a dull knife blade or screw driver. Press in place and hold it tight against the plaster for a few minutes. A photographer's print roller is excellent for this. Wipe off all paste smears with a damp cloth as soon as possible.

Q We have been living in our present home for several years. The windows are the combination, three-channel, screen and storm sash. The panes have stubborn spots from the screens which I have been unable to remove with several different window-cleaning preparations, or with kerosene or ammonia. Can you suggest anything else to get these spots off?

A Try cleaning the windows with steel wool soap pads. First, wet the glass. Then, not rubbing too hard, use the soap pad over the surface. Rinse with a clean, soft cloth to remove the suds. Then wipe dry with a clean soft cloth. Repeat treatment, if necessary.

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a tormenting itchy anus are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms, ugly parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it. To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P.W. tablets do — and here's how they do it.
First — a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then, Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work — kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Job's Daughters Mark 25th Anniversary At Installation, Reception Saturday

On May 13, 1939, 30 candidates received Bethel Degrees from the International Order of Job's Daughters, forming the charter membership of Appleton's Bethel 24. Saturday evening, the Bethel marked its 25th anniversary with the installation of new officers at the Masonic Temple.

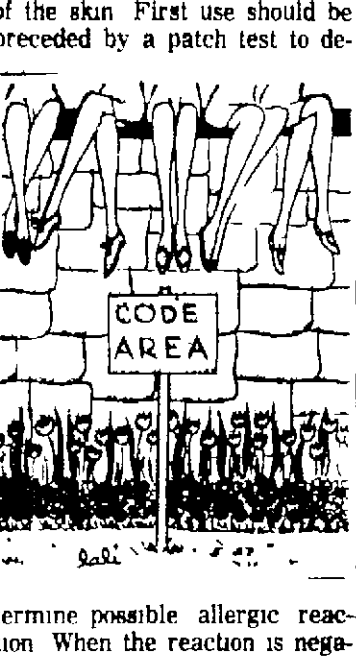

Present to see Miss Carol Behnke, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. A. Behnke, Kaukauna, installed as Honored Queen, and JoAnn Siesak, Leann Siedschlag, Mary Behnke, Donna Dewey, Susan Richmond, Sandra Montell and Mrs. Malcolm Jacobson. Philip Foxgrover and Dr. Behnke were soloists. Adelalde Krahm was Bible bearer and members of John F. Ross Chapter of DeMolay acted as escorts during the Bible ceremony. The flag was presented by Royal H. Lawrenz, assisted by the commandery. DeMolay escorts for the installation ceremony were Kent Cunningham, Bill Jensen, Jim Lacey, Rainer Lorenz, Craig Nielsen and Jim Ochiltree. Pamela Thiel and Donald Rilling were usher.

After the closing ceremony and benediction offered by the Rev. R. G. Edwards, the new officers were guests at a reception for members, families and guests. Sandra Jacobson was registrar and Eunette Kikland, Karin Hovde and Lynn Freya, hostesses.

Grooming Code
In any code of feminine grooming, the shaven leg is a basic principle. Not defaming of growth constitutes an offense against fastidiousness. Depilation by abrasion is effective for blond, sparse fuzz. You simply lather the skin and double up on depilations as rub with a pumice stone, using warm weather comes on the scene. In summer, growth is accelerated. For the sake of clear action Full results may not come on the first try, but you must cease operations to avoid irritation. In any event, the process must be repeated daily and followed by a thorough lotion massage. A razor, safety or electric model, makes a clean sweep. Before using a safety razor, the legs must be lathered or the skin will roughen. An application of hand or body lotion is the hair shaft below the surface.

Genevieve Paulson Circle Officers Told

Mrs. John Carpenter was elected president of the Genevieve Paulson Circle of The King's Daughters at their meeting Monday evening. Mrs. Harold Mares is vice president; Mrs. Warren Carlson, secretary; and Mrs. Joseph Shiff, treasurer. Chairmen's reports and summaries of the Circle's activities were presented. Mrs. Ernie Miller and Mrs. A. Harold Martin, co-chairmen of the orientation committee, announced that a meeting had been held recently with new members to discuss history, aims and purposes of the Circle and the International Organization. Committees for the coming year were announced by Mrs. Carpenter. Council representatives will be Mrs. Carpenter, Mrs. Carl Stumpf, Mrs. Mares and Mrs. Don Herrling; social chairman, Mrs. Utseich; publicity, Mrs. George Nichols; membership and orientation, Mrs. James Grist, Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Miller.

Questions On Sewing

Q. What is a good way to sew a hem on a silk jersey dress? — MRS. D. S.

A. Make a row of machine stitching about 1/2 inch from the edge and pink edge. Turn hem edge back about 1/4 inch and hold back with thumb of left hand as you catch-stitch to garment (see illustration). You can also overcast the first (instead of stitching and pink) and then catch-stitch.

Q. What is meant by without nap and with nap on pattern envelopes, and why do the yardages differ? — MRS. R. F.

A. Without nap means the fabric has no pile or design that runs in one direction, therefore allowing you to lay out your pieces going in both directions. With nap means that the design or pile lies in one direction and must be cut with pieces going all in the same direction. This takes more fabric.

Q. When making a jersey dress what stitch and tension should I use? — MISS D. H.

A. A long machine stitch (10-12 per inch) and a loose tension.

Q. I'm making a dress of striped fabric from an old pattern and yardage is not indicated for stripes. Do I need extra fabric for this? — MRS. P. N.

A. If they are pin stripes you do not need extra fabric. If the stripes are wide, you'd better buy an extra 1/2 yard.

Q. I want to make taped seams for an unlined jacket. What type of tape should I use? — MRS. N. G.

A. On curved seams (such as those on a kimono sleeve) that need a little elasticity use bias tape. On other seams use seam tape.

Q. Why do some people suggest pressing a hem in place before actually hemming it? — MISS S. P.

A. Because it will help you to make the hem even and accurate. Also, it makes sewing the hem in place much easier.

Q. Why is it that when I make double-pointed darts they always pucker and draw? — MRS. I. M.

A. In order for these darts to lie flat, you must clip them several times at the center of the dart.

Q. Patricia Scott's new booklet, "How To Handle Special Fabrics," will save you time and trouble.

Mrs. Kennedy Visits Exhibit of JFK Mementos

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy looked over mementos of her late husband and remarked, almost in a whisper, "I suppose the photographs are the hardest to look at."

The pictures showed the late President Kennedy with his family as a boy, playing with his own children, campaigning. This Friday would have been the 47th birthday of Kennedy, killed by an assassin last Nov. 22. The birthday anniversary will be marked by an international television program, "JFK: May 29, 1964," in which his widow will take part.

Mrs. Kennedy was here Monday to inaugurate a traveling exhibit of his mementos. She made the comment about his photographs after a reporter asked what part of the exhibit impressed her most.

Pair Observes 45th Wedding Anniversary

KAUKAUNA — Mr. and Mrs. Duett Johnson, 205 Jefferson St., marked their 45th wedding anniversary recently. A dinner and reception took place at their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson were married May 7, 1919, at the Denmark West Lutheran Church. Before his retirement in 1958, Mr. Johnson was employed at Thilmany Pulp and Paper Co.

The couple's children are Donald, Clifford, Allan, Atlanta, Ga., and Mrs. Carl Melchert, Appleton. They also have 11 grandchildren.

Seated Beside Her brother-in-law, Attorney General Robert Kennedy, is Mrs. John F. Kennedy at a press conference Monday in New York in connection with the opening of an exhibit of mementoes of the late president. After a nationwide tour, the exhibit will be placed in the proposed John F. Kennedy Library at Harvard University. (AP Wirephoto)

Committees Announced
The executive committee will be composed of Mrs. Carpenter, Mrs. Mares, Mrs. Carlson, Mrs. Shiff and Mrs. Don Sturtevant; projects, Mrs. Al Lehman and Mrs. Richard Paas; layettes, Mrs. Don Ritzer and Mrs. Miller; steering committee, Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Gene Davis; and historian, Mrs. William Radtke.

Mrs. Carlson was appointed sunshine chairman; Mrs. David Weiland, welfare chairman and Mrs. Shiff, doll clothes chairman.

Mrs. Lehman, Mrs. James Retson, Mrs. Radtke and Mrs. Rudy Cherkasky will have charge of telephoning and Mrs. Brahe and Mrs. Sturtevant, Christmas family help. Mrs. Joseph Hanegraf, Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Carpenter, Mrs. Mares, Mrs. Carlson and Mrs. Shiff will make up the foresight planning committee.

Plans for the annual summer children's movie were discussed. Mrs. Utseich and Mrs. Lehman are co-chairmen. Mrs. Paas is ticket chairman.

Plan State Conclave
The Genevieve Paulson Circle will serve as hostess for the state convention of The King's Daughters Oct. 15 at Riverview Country Club. General chairman is Mrs. Hanegraf; menu, Mrs. Mares; decorations, Mrs. Shiff; registration, Mrs. Weiland; program, Mrs. Stumpf; memorial service, Mrs. Herrling; flowers, Mrs. Retson; and publicity, Mrs. Brahe. Chairmen listed their committees.

A projects report was presented by Mrs. Carlson. New ideas and methods for group projects were discussed. The report of the foresight planning committee was given.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Neil Brahe, 1136 E. Moorpark Ave. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Sturtevant and Mrs. Nichols. The next meeting will take place in October at the home of Mrs. Weiland.

Reunion Scheduled By St. John Class
LITTLE CHUTE — St. John High School Class of 1954 will hold a 10-year reunion Aug. 1 at the Knights of Columbus Hall, Kaukauna.

A brochure will be prepared based on information received from questionnaires sent to members of the class.

Home-Made Cocoa
If you are making hot chocolate (from cocoa or chocolate) at home, don't remove any film that forms at the top because it holds calcium and protein; just beat the beverage before serving.

It also includes a needle and thread chart. For your copy of this authoritative booklet, write to Patricia Scott in care of Appleton Post-Crescent, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover costs of printing and handling.

Miss Scott is always glad to hear from her readers, and whenever possible will use their questions in her column, but because of the great volume of mail received daily, she cannot answer individual letters. (Copyright, 1964)

Automatic Suit Return Has Danger

In the old days there were two sure ways to recognize a gentleman: he always stood up when a lady entered the room, and he always returned his partner's suit. Today a gentleman stands up for a lady mostly in self-defense, and returns his partner's suit only when it pleases him to do so.

the process East's return no longer matters, since South is sure to make the contract. Declarer is sure to win two spades, three diamonds, and three clubs. He can develop a heart as his ninth trick, and the opponents can do nothing about it.

Timely Switch
East can defeat the contract by switching to hearts after winning the first trick. West's lead of the deuce of spades shows that he has only four spades, which means that South also has four spades. There cannot be much nourishment in such a suit but hearts may be the stuff to feed the troops.

West wins the second trick with the king of hearts and returns a heart. East gains the lead with a diamond in time to defeat the contract with the rest of the hearts.

Note that West does return his partner's suit, hearts. It is clear that East has rejected spades, presumably for a good reason. West has no reason to reject hearts, so he returns the suit. Thus, essentially, is the modern rule: Return your partner's suit unless you have a good reason to switch.

Daily Question
Dealer, at your right opens with one spade. You hold S K Q 9 3, H Q 10, D A 8 3 2, pass in the hope that the opponents will dig themselves a hole. Answer: In general, bid one spade.

South wins with the king of spades and develops the diamond suit, losing a trick to East in no trump showing spade.

Salt Curdles Milk

Salt tends to curdle milk, that's why some cooks like to add it to a white sauce after the cooking and thickening process has taken place.

Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

GROOM'S PARENTS DON'T PAY

Dear Louise: During the past several years, I notice that friends and relatives have had weddings in their families. In each case, the bridegroom or his parents defrayed the cost of the reception by paying for some or all of the refreshments. My own daughter is to be married in two months and this question has come up. Just what are the responsibilities of the groom or his parents?

Louise Davis Answers:
The bridegroom's parents shouldn't contribute anything at all to the cost of the wedding and the reception. When they do it, that doesn't make it right. It is always wise to check rules and traditional regulations rather than assume that other weddings in the family or circle of friends were correct.

At any wedding, the bridegroom's parents are very special guests and have no other obligations. The following are the bridegroom's expenses: gift to the bride (usually jewelry), wedding ring, bride's bouquet if he expresses the wish, corsages for the two mothers if he volunteers gifts for the best man and ushers, ties and boutonnieres for himself, best man and ushers, fee for the officiating clergyman, marriage license. His parents conform in dress and also in presenting a limited list of wedding guests if it is requested.

Have All Old Hoboes Been Forced to Work?

BY JERRY BUCK
RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—What ever happened to the hoboes used to know as a kid?
I haven't seen an honest-to-goodness hobo in years. Apparently in this age of prosperity they have been squeezed into employment.
But to a kid in those first post-depression years they were everywhere. The railroad tracks were only a few blocks away and every freight train brought more of them to the Louisiana bayou country where I grew up.
Looking back, I suppose most of them were derelicts, bewildered and abandoned, but in those days they seemed like soldiers of fortune.
Old Hats
In old felt hats, knee-length coats and open-toed shoes, they had an aura of glamor. They came and went like the wind and every meal was a picnic around a camp fire.
We had no sidewalk in front of our house on which to scrawl a sign, but the hoboes all seemed to know my mother was an easy mark. She was always good for a plate of scrambled eggs, bread and a cup or two of coffee. Sometimes I would sit beside one on the back steps and watch him wolf down the food.
Dad had a brick yard along the tracks, and for a time it was a hobo Hilton. There wasn't much demand for bricks, and I for months at a time its kilns stood empty. We used to play through the chimneys, down the tunnels, and out them back. Like our childhood, again, yelling just to hear our echoes.
The hoboes turned the kilns in to harbors from the wet and the cold—and perhaps too from the world. A knapsack tossed into a corner and a blanket on the floor and it was home until the wail of a train whistle called them on again.
A few bricks made a next-best hearth on which to set a battered pot. I pooled my nickels with the hoboes for a sack of beans and salt pork. It odors filled our cavern, and nothing ever tasted better. We sat around the fire while the rain dripped outside and I heard em broidered tales of places that seemed to me like the Arabian Nights.
I was especially envious of one ingenious fellow who fashioned a home out of an abandoned auto. It sat under a weeping willow beside a brick pond filled with junk.
Junk Heap
It was a shell. The motor and wheels, even the fenders, were gone. He stripped it bare inside, then plastered the walls and chinked the holes with newspaper to ward off the chill. From the junk heap he salvaged an old car seat and it was chair and bed. An upturned crate was a table.
Later, long afterward, a gang of us braced ourselves against the willow and shoved the car much demand for bricks, and into the pond. A little sadly, I watched it settle into the murk. They are gone now, and no boot of a diesel will ever bring them back. Like our childhood, again, yelling just to hear our

Officials Check Odors Said to Be From Plant

The Appleton building inspector and health department are checking into allegations of a group of residents that odors are emanating from the Scolding Locks Corp. at 1530 W. Rogers Ave.

Louis Porath, 1615 W. Rogers Ave., one of the objectors, says the alleged problem has occurred continuously since 1961.

In a petition to the common council, 37 residents have asked city officials to institute an action to have the firm "cease and desist the emission of noxious fumes and odors originating at Scolding Locks."

Three years ago, according to Porath, the health department and building inspector were supposed to work with Scolding Locks for reduction of fumes after 26 persons signed a petition.

At that time company officials were quoted as saying the filtering processes probably would be revised.

The firm manufacturers hair pins and bobby pins.

Freedom Dedicates Yearbook to Four Handicapped Students

FREEDOM—The high school yearbook, "Shamrock" has been published and dedicated to four handicapped students.

Theme of the book is "service"—service to parents, teachers, administration and less fortunate fellow students. Named in the dedication are Willard Van Handel, a senior; Virginia Kramer, junior, and Robert Kempen and Gary Rohm, freshmen.

Valley Iron Works Employee Hurt on Job

An employee at the Valley Iron Works, 401 E. South Island St., Donald Hartwig, 21, 911 E. Washington St., was taken to Appleton Memorial Hospital Monday when he was hit in the shoulder by a piece of falling metal.

The accident occurred at the plant about 1:30 p.m. Hartwig was taken to the hospital by Lindy's Ambulance Service. He received shoulder and leg injuries and is still confined to the hospital.

Movie Studio Razed, Had Colorful History

Goed Back to King Vidor Days, 1919; Became Well-Known Educational Lot

BY BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Old studios die hard, as the wreckage of the old Educational lot discovered last week.

It was a sad sight as I watched a towering crane swing its last load of the last stage of the Santa Monica Boulevard studio. The gateman's shack was the only structure that remained on the three-acre site. The rest looked like a London block after the blitz.

The sight was especially poignant to a reporter who had seen the now-leveled stages alive with the bright lights and electric activity of film making. For over 40 years the studio had managed to cling to life, precariously at times. It finally died to make way for that symbol of modern times, the shopping center.

Back to 1919

The history of the studio goes back to 1919 when King Vidor built a barn stage on the property next to what is now Goldwyn Studios. In 1925, Educational Film backed by the Hudson's Bay Co., took over the place and created a modern plant for film making.

Jack White, now retired in Palm Springs, converted Educational into a fun factory that produced two-reel comedies with such figures as Larry Semon, Thelma Todd, a Al St. John, Lupino Lane and Lloyd Hamilton.

"Shirley Temple was discovered on our lot in the baby burlesque series," White recalled. "Patty Arbuckle worked for us after the scandal. He was through as an actor, but I changed his name to William Goodrich and he directed comedies for two years at $1,000 a week."

Untimely Death

The double feature condemned two-reelers to an untimely death and in the 1930s the studio became the home of Grand National Studios, an offshoot of Educational. Grand National was notable mostly for being the only studio which would dare hire James Cagney after his dispute with Warner Brothers.

Even the Cagney name couldn't make Grand National live up to its title, and the firm lapsed into limbo in 1939. The studio harbored collections of quickie producers until 1946, when railroad tycoon Robert Young started Producers Releasing Corp. It ground out low-budget Westerns and other films primarily to keep Young's Pathe labs busy.

In 1949, Young made the studio home of Eagle-Lion Films and hired the flamboyant Bryan Foy to head production.

After Eagle-Lion folded, the lot resumed its status as a haven for independents. It became the home of Ziv Productions, which was absorbed by United Artists. The latter then sold the studio to a development firm for wrecking and rebuilding. Such is progress.

Registration for Summer Baton Classes Started

KAUKAUNA — Registrations are now being taken for the recreation department sponsored baton twirling classes with persons from outside the city welcome to participate at a slightly higher registration fee than city residents.

Early registration is desired to permit completion of scheduling by June 6. Persons will be notified of class schedules by June 8 and classes will begin June 11.

Miss Karen Patterson, member of the National Baton Twirling Association, captain of DeDe's Diplomats and drum majorette for Kaukauna High School band, will be instructor replacing Mrs. David Nagan who has been given a leave of absence for the summer.

Registrations can be made by calling the recreation office, Miss Patterson or Mrs. Nagan in the mornings. Lessons will be given for beginners, intermediates and advanced. Classes will start at 8 a.m. and run for 40 minutes. Sessions will be held at LaFollette Park shelter all day on Thursdays and at Riverside Park shelter on Friday morning.

7:30-8 (Channel 11) — The Patty Duke Show begins its series of summer repeats with "The Birds and The Bees Bit," the time when Patty reluctantly helps out 12-year-old brother Ross (Paul O'Keefe) at his first dance.

7:30-8 (Channel 11) — Stuart Erwin, as a sharp promoter, catches the eye of Aunt Azealia and causes governess Katy (Inger Stevens) considerable unhappiness on "The Farmer's Daughter." (Color)

7:30-8 (Channel 11) — The Rainy Meeker, an Air Force captain shot out of the sky by the Nazis, is befriended by a resistance fighter, who hides him in a cave in Southern France in a war-time thriller on Suspense.

8-8:30 (Channel 2) — Granny, homesick for her rustic days in the Ozarks, has banker Drisdale build her a cabin behind the family mansion, where she can have a "roof-raisin', wind-rattlin', rafter-dustin', floor-shakin' square dance" on "The Beverly Hillbillies."

8-9 (Channel 4-5) — Esplanade finally gets around to showing "The Prankster Rebel" which was nulled off its original air date (Feb. 12) because too many people at the network thought it would burn up the home screens with its lively love scenes.

8-9 (Channel 11) — Ben Casey in a repeat of "Six Impossible Things Before Breakfast" tries to build up suspense, but manages only to get mauld.

8:30-9 (Channel 2) — The Dick Van Dyke Show repeats the time when Rob and Laura, convinced they aren't legally married, go hunting for a justice of the peace. When they find him (Russell Collins), he refuses to marry the two in fear he will break his record of only joining happy couples together.

9-10 (Channel 2) — Art Carney helps make The Danny Kaye show, first shown last January, a wild one.

9-10 (Channel 4-5) — The Eleventh Hour effects a semicure in one hour, which is instant psychiatry. In this repeat, the patient is Katherine Crawford and her problem is refusing to believe she has a baby.

Goiter Frequency Less Because of Treatment

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D. you don't hear so much about goiters. Dear Dr. Molner: Do people still have goiters? I never hear about them. However, the doctor says I have one and he can feel it when I swallow. I have a nervous condition and am wondering if this could be the cause of it. — MRS. S E B

Certainly, Dr. Molner, people still have goiters, although not nearly as often as was the case 70 or 80 years ago, before the effects of iodized salt became apparent. In those days there were more goiters, and they were caused by lack of iodine in various localities, the Midwest and Great Lakes regions being especially deficient. The thyroid gland, starting for the trace of iodine it needed, would enlarge in Nature's desperate effort to make up for the lack. Goiters likewise grew to considerable size, and scars were more apparent, too, among people having operations for them. Iodine, earlier diagnosis and more effective treatment have changed all this, and that's why now eight years old One doctor

Nixon to Speak In Milwaukee

NEW YORK (AP) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon has scheduled speeches in New York, Baltimore, Atlanta, Detroit and Milwaukee between June 4 and June 16. Nixon has been prominently mentioned as a possible Republican nominee for president again this year, but has said he is not a candidate. Dictator Re-Elected PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — Dr. Francois Duvalier, 57, dictator of Haiti, was elected president for life Monday. The vote of the 67 members of Congress was unanimous.

They don't do anything; another says to operate. I understand major surgery is involved and it is quite painful. Yes or no? I want to do the best thing for my boy. — MRS. J J C.

Of course you do — and since hydrocele (a sac of fluid in the testis) will not "go away" by itself, the operation is eventually necessary. It can, however, be done at some time convenient for all concerned. I disagree that such surgery is necessarily considered "major." There will be some tenderness and soreness right afterwards, but that applies to a goodly number of operations, and I think you are, for whatever reason, more disturbed about it than the true facts warrant. Experts Dispute Vaccine Merits

Genius of Two Men, Salk, Sabin, Stands Behind Victory Over Polio

BY FRANK CAREY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two years ago, polio struck down 40,000 Americans every year.

This year, there will be about 200 cases in a nation of 180 million people.

Behind this medical miracle stands the genius of two men, Dr. Jonas E. Salk and Dr. Albert Sabin.

Medical scientists estimate that at least 212,000 Americans have been spared from death or crippling by poliomyelitis since 1955. That was the year the Salk vaccine became available. The Sabin vaccine, after sensational successes in other countries, including the Soviet Union, became available in the United States in 1958.

The U. S. Public Health Service warns, however, that there is still danger. The virus is still alive, and until its elimination by universal vaccination there is always the threat of resurgence.

Vaccine Dispute
The principal dispute today is over the relative merits of the Salk and Sabin vaccines. The Salk is given by injection, the Sabin is taken orally.

Some experts say the strongest hope for eliminating polio lies with the Sabin vaccine. In mass campaigns it has been given to 2 million persons in a single day in a single city.

A few doctors say the Salk vaccine "will become as obsolete as the horse and buggy," but all grant that it was the Salk vaccine that accounted for more of the gain so far achieved in the United States. That gain cost nearly $640 million in research and other expenditures, but has saved the nation an estimated $2.4 billion in other ways, such as medical costs.

Basil O'Connor, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, contends the Salk vaccine alone achieved the victory. His organization supported research on both the Salk and Sabin vaccines.

Without downgrading the Sabin vaccine, O'Connor rejects statements that Sabin vaccination is necessary for people who have received the complete course of Salk shots.

Death Rattle
Despite medical arguments, 1964 could be the year that marked the beginning of the death rattle of the polio virus.

This was the year when, for two successive weeks in early January, and in another week in February, not a single case of paralytic polio was reported in the United States.

Mark that well! Not a single paralytic case of the malady which in 1962 reached a peak of 58,000 cases, with 3,000 deaths.

These were the statistics for 1963.

—Only 431 cases of polio, including 200 paralytic cases—the lowest number in a single year since reporting began in 1912.

—Fewer than two persons per million paralyzed by polio, even fewer than the number of people attached by typhoid fever.

It was statistics like these that had Surgeon-General Luther L. Terry to say, "I can envision the day when the occurrence of polio in the United States will be as rare as it will make headlines, just as did the trip of a boy with smallpox through New York en route to his home in Canada a year or so ago."

For the first 15 weeks of 1964, only 19 cases of polio were reported, including 13 paralytic cases.

If the rate continues, 1964 should see only half as many cases as last year, when the record low was 431.

There were as many as 200 cases in single towns prior to 1905, when Salk, the young virologist from the University of Pittsburgh, gave the world a vaccine made of killed viruses.

In 1965 the toll dropped from 48,000 to 23,000.

The next year, it was down to 15,140. By 1961 when the government approved the oral vaccine developed by Sabin, of the University of Cincinnati, the toll dropped to 1,312, the next year to 886—and finally to 431 last year.

From 1955 through 1963, some 455 million doses of Salk vaccine were distributed—enough to give 118,736,000 individuals the full course of four shots.

However, not all of it was used, because of apathy or distaste for needed shots.

One estimate is that only 20 to 50 per cent of the population have received any Salk shots, and that many who received the full course have not gotten the booster shots recommended at two-year intervals.

Another estimate is that 20 per cent of school children have received Salk shots, along with a lower percentage of preschool children, and about one half of the adults.

Sabin vaccine, made of living, but toned-down, virus, is given in three oral doses, one to two months apart, with each dose containing a different type of virus. A booster is recommended one year later for infants.

By the end of 1963, Sabin vaccine distributed—and presumably used—included 85.2 million doses of Type III.

Since 1959 distribution of Salk has declined while distribution of Sabin has increased.

Currently, 4 million doses a month of Sabin are being distributed, 2 million a month of Salk.

Public Apathetic
The Public Health Service says the American people have yet to take full advantage of either vaccine.

Last fall, the service estimated that among the nation's 16.5 million children under age 5—the most susceptible age group for polio—at least half had not yet received the recommended course of either Salk or Sabin. Many pockets of unvac-

Wednesday May 27, 1964 Appleton Post-Crescent C12

ciated still exist throughout the land, especially in poor areas.

The Public Health Service has taken no stand on which vaccine is preferable, Salk or Sabin. It says both are effective—and leaves the choice to individual doctors.

The American Medical Association and the American Academy of Pediatrics, while giving a bow to Salk vaccine for being the pioneer, have come out for the Sabin product.

Although 1964 may stand as the year when the end of polio came in sight, there still are 120,000 persons in the United States who are partly or completely paralyzed as a result of polio.

Erhard to Attend Trade Conference

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Ludwig Erhard says he plans to attend a European Common Market meeting shortly and hopes the trade bloc's other five government chiefs will join him.

Erhard, who is to visit President Johnson in Washington next week, urged the summit meeting Monday night to give the organization a political underpinning.

Cabinet ministers from the member countries—the others are France, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—meet June 1 in Brussels, but it was not certain Erhard had this date in mind.

Foxes Score Third Successive Victory

Tip Waterloo
In 20-Walk
Game, 10-9

BY JOHN L. FAUSTIAN
Foxes scored third victory

Both Fox Cities and Waterloo observed an unannounced "Be Kind to the Opposition Night" at Goodland Field Tuesday, but the Foxes proved a little less persistent in their generosity and hauled away a 10-9 Midwest League victory.

The Foxes outlasted the Hawks in a 7-pitcher, 20-walk, 6-error, 3-wild pitch marathon to log their third straight victory and boost their home record to 9-4.

Unlike their first two games of the current home stand — in which they scored impressive 14-0 and 6-1 wins — the Foxes needed no finesse last night.
They stomped through to victory by negotiating the game's fifth and final exchange in the seventh inning.

Seppich Breaks Tie
A bases — full error enabled the Foxes to knot the debate, at 9-9, and John Seppich's sacrifice fly accounted for the run that proved to be decisive.

It remained for little Ed Hawkins to provide most of the only good pitching of the night to make the thin advantage stand up. Undefeated (3-0) as a starter, reliever Hawkins held the Hawks hitless in the final two innings to preserve reliever Henry King's third victory in four decisions.

Tonight, the Foxes and the Hawks will do battle again on "Bring a Friend Night" (two adult admissions for $1). An added attraction will be a hooten-ay 20 minutes before the 8 p.m.
game-time.

The Foxes were out-hit, 11 to 8, last night but got better mil-age out of their blows than the Hawks. Seppich and Dave May each netted two hits and two RBIs, while Fred Rico and Bob Matias produced one hit and two RBIs apiece.

For the Hawks, catcher Van Rushing batted in three runs with two hits, while first baseman Jerry Dorisch went 3-for-3 with two RBIs. Dorisch was off base five straight times (including two walks), while diminutive shortstop Al Montreuil inhabited the bases five times in six attempts (including four walks).

Can't Locate Plate
In the first four innings, nothing short of radar could have helped the pitchers of either team to locate the plate. Seventeen walks were dished out in that span in the final 4 1/2 innings.

Eighteen of the league's 20
umpires met with Reynolds in Chicago and drafted a letter demanding increased benefits.
Copies of the letter were sent to Giles and every team in the league.

Currently, the pension plan for umpires retiring at 55 calls for $300 a year for each year of service meaning an umpire with 10 years of active service would receive $2,000 a year upon retirement.

The association, however,
wants this figure boosted to $300
a year for each year of service.
Recent dickering resulted in an offer of $250 by Giles which the National League umpires turned down before issuing their ultimatum.

Reynolds said that he and five directors of the group met with league officials at the major league meetings last December.
This group also buddled with the National League Pension Committee.

Dick Farrell Halts Braves on 4 Hits In Colts' 4-2 Win

Day's Rest Quiets Braves' Bats; Alou, Torre, Spangler Hit Homers

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A day's rest apparently is something the Milwaukee Braves can do without. The latest one cooled off their hitting and slowed a drive for the National League lead.

Houston right-hander Dick Farrell fired a four-hitter and struck out 11 in stopping the Braves 4-2 for his seventh victory in eight decisions Tuesday night before a crowd of 9,937 at County Stadium.

The Braves, who had hammered out 43 hits in taking three straight games from St.
Louis before enjoying a day off Monday, dropped from third to fifth place, but remained just one and a half games from the lead as front-running Philadelphia also lost.

In Command
Farrell was in command all the way except for homers by Felipe Alou and Joe Torre in the third inning. The only other Milwaukee hits were a single by Rico Carty and Torre's pop double down the right field line in the sixth.

The Colts mauled Tony Cloninger for eight hits and all their runs before the Milwaukee right-hander was shelled in the fifth. Jack Smith, Dan Schneider and Bob Tiefenauer blanked Houston the rest of the way.

Former Brave Al Spangler led off the game by lining his first homework of the year into the right field bleachers. Houston scored another run in the third when, with two out, Nellie Fox, Mike White and Walt Bond singled in succession.

Tied in Third
The Braves tied the count in the third when Felipe Alou cracked his third homer, a line shot into the bleachers in left center. With two out, Torre then followed with his 10th homer, a blast halfway up in the bleachers in left.

The only Milwaukee threat after that was Torre's double, which helped raise his average to a mighty .376.

The Colts nailed down the decision with an uprising with two out in the fifth. White, son of the late Hank, hit a two-run home run.

Major League Stars BATTING — Dick Smith and Charley Smith, Mets, led 23-hit explosion in 19-1 thumping of Chicago Cubs. Dick collected five hits—three singles, a double and a triple—while Charley drove in five runs with three hits, one a homer.

PITCHING — Dick Farrell, Colts, became majors' first seven-game winner, allowing only four hits and striking out 11 in 4-2 victory over Milwaukee.

Terrors Win Papermaker Relays

BY JIM HARP
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

KIMBERLY — A clean sweep in the field events and team depth were the major factors as Appleton High School won its second consecutive team title in the Papermaker Relays here Tuesday night.

The Terrors piled up 186 points to 179 for runnerup Neenah. Menasha placed third with 168 points, Kimberly had 101 1/2 for fourth and Kaukauna was fifth with 89 1/2.

The 3-man entries by the Terrors in the field events won first places in the discus, shot put,

Table of Points	Appleton	Neenah	Menasha	Kimberly	Kaukauna

high jump, broad jump and pole vault. In addition, records were set by the discus, shot put and pole vault by Appleton.

New Standard
In the discus, Jim Lammeyer,
Appleton, had a combined total of 377 feet, 1 inch for a new standard. The old mark was 374 feet, 8 inches.
The shot put was George Webster,
Appleton, with 37 feet, 9 inches.
The discus was set by Appleton's Jim Lammeyer with 136 feet, 6 1/2 inches for a total to eclipse the old mark of 134 feet, 6 1/2 inches.

Marshall, Russ Kamme and Chuck Zola went 32 feet, 9 inches in the pole vault for a new mark. The old record was 30 feet, 8 inches. The Terror quintet of Jim Dunsink, Bryce Miller and Joe Bowers won the high jump and missed setting a new mark by 1 inch.

Chuck McKee, the Terrors' individual standout all season, accounted for a new mark when he skipped the low hurdles in 21 seconds flat. McKee also won the high jump and missed setting a new mark by 1 inch.

McKee's meeting with Mensha's Darrell Redmond in the hurdles was not as close as expected. McKee had a 2-yard edge on Redmond in the high and won easily in the low.

One of the big surprises in the meet came in the first heat of the 220-yard dash. Don Hoks, of Menasha, nipped Hollis Bliss, of Neenah, at the tape in an exciting finish.

Menasha, the defending Wisconsin high school tennis champion, will begin defense of its crown in the Menasha sectional Friday.

Others to appear on the Men-asha courts are Appleton, Fond du Lac, Green Bay West, Neenah, Oshkosh, Preble, Kimberly and Ripon.

A total of 94 high schools will be playing at 10 sectional sites.
The sectionals will run today through Saturday with the state finals at Neenah, June 5-6.

Clintonville's netmen will compete in the Wausau sectional Wednesday. Others in the field are Shawano, Stevens Point, Antigo, Wisconsin Rapids, Marshfield, Rhinelander, Merriam and Wausau.

Hank Bauer Fined $50 for Dispute

BALTIMORE (AP)—Manager
Hank Bauer of the Baltimore Orioles was fined $50 Tuesday for a dispute with umpire Al Salerno last Friday night.

"I think I got off pretty lucky," Bauer said after receiving a telegram from American League President Joe Cronin. "I thought that if I was going to get fined, it would be more than that. That's their prerogative to fine me whatever they want."

Bauer charged onto the field when Salerno warned Oriole pitcher Steve Barber and fined him $50 after Minnesota's Tony Oliva was struck on the batting helmet by a Barber pitch. Bauer had to be restrained by other umpires and Oriole players.

ARDMORE, Pa. (AP)—The crowd at Merion Golf Club was apprehensive. Comments included, "Gee, I hope he plays well," to "I hope he doesn't embarass himself."

The "he" was Gen Dwight D.

Sorenson Hits
Grand Slam in District Tourney

MENASHA — A 7-run second inning, which included a grand slam homer by Dick Sorenson, propelled Menasha to an 11-0 verdict over Kimberly in the WIAA district tournament here Tuesday.

The Bluejays advanced to Friday's finals where they will meet the winner of today's game between Hortonville and New London.

Fireballer Stan Ostrowski stopped the hitters on one hit, a single off third baseman Sorenson's glove by Dan DeWeert in the third inning. He struck out 12, including seven in a row between the second and fourth frames, walked one and hit a batter. No Kimberly runner reached third base. Ostrowski helped himself along with a 2-run homer in the sixth.

Get 14 Hits
The Bluejays got to Jim VandenBoogaard for 14 hits, at least one in every inning, except the third. He walked three, struck out two and committed four errors.

Menasha's big second included two singles by Marty Quick, one each by Dick Sorenson, Terry Hick and Ostrowski, the grand slam, a walk and three Kimberly errors.

The hosts added another run in the fourth on a single by Mark Pawlowski, an error and a walk.

Umpire Group Issues Strike Ultimatum

Pension Plan Inadequate, Arbiters
Want More Benefits

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Baseball League Umpires Association, having failed to pressure a pension plan increase, has issued a strike ultimatum.

Either the National League meets the association's demands or "appropriate action" will be taken by 3 p.m., July 3, said attorney John J. Reynolds of Chicago, who represents the group, on Tuesday.

The move hit such baseball officials as Warren Giles, president of the National League, and Ford Frick, the game's commissioner, by surprise.

However, the umpires' association has been angling for increased pension benefits for the last six months without receiving league courtesy, said Reynolds.

Eighteen of the league's 20
umpires met with Reynolds in Chicago and drafted a letter
demanding increased benefits.
Copies of the letter were sent to Giles and every team in the league.

Currently, the pension plan for umpires retiring at 55 calls for $300 a year for each year of service meaning an umpire with 10 years of active service would receive $2,000 a year upon retirement.

The association, however,
wants this figure boosted to $300
a year for each year of service.
Recent dickering resulted in an offer of $250 by Giles which the National League umpires turned down before issuing their ultimatum.

Reynolds said that he and five directors of the group met with league officials at the major league meetings last December.
This group also buddled with the National League Pension Committee.

Wally Bunker Hurls 2-1 Baltimore Win

Rookie Pitcher Gets Fifth Win, Relief Help to Stop Detroit

BY MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Staff Writer

There's no battle with Bunker's on the hill.

Wally Bunker, the 19-year-old rookie right-hander creating a sensation with the Baltimore Orioles, marched up on the hill for the fifth time this season Tuesday night and came away with his fifth victory without a loss 2-1 over the Detroit Tigers.

There was, of course, the usual skirmishing, but Bunker has not been bombed yet. This time he set the first 13 Tigers down in order and allowed only three hits before he was lifted for a pinch hitter when the Orioles scored the winning run in the seventh.

Headed for Minors

Bunker's professional experience before this season consisted of 14 games with Stockton in 1963, where he posted a 10-1 record, and an 8-1 record with the Orioles after reaching the majors at the tail end of the season.

Bunker appeared to be headed back to the minors for seasoning when the Orioles decided to

Fox River Tractor picked up its fourth straight victory in the International Industrial softball league via a 16-12 verdict over Serv-U-Bakers.

Valley Ready Mix nipped Riverdale, 12-11 and Zwickers edged Appleton Machine, 10-9. Sherry Motors leveled Interlake, 15-12.

Dave Braun led the league leaders with three hits. Fox Tractor broke loose for five runs in the third and seven in the fourth. Art Schomisch, Wes Nimmer, Ken Fields and Earl Kahler had two hits for the losers.

Dick Schouten rapped out 4-for-4, including two triples, to pace Valley Ready Mix. Kermit Coenen added a homer. Elmer Geiger and Ken Thornack mustered a pair of hits for the losers.

Dave DuFrane rapped a home run for Sherry Motors. Dale Depier and Dale Loewenhagen tripled for Interlake.

Bob Kuse crashed a triple and added two more hits in four trips to pace Zwickers. Pat Hughes added a 3-bagger. Jim Dubard homered for Appleton Machine. Jim and Mike LeMere chipped in with three hits for the losers.

Pitcher's Death Ruled Accidental

DURHAM, N. C. (AP)—Coroner Dr. D. R. Perry ruled Tuesday that Sammy Roy Fountain, 26-year-old ace relief pitcher with the Durham Bulls of the class AA Carolina League, drowned accidentally Monday in a motor lodge swimming pool.

Dr. Perry said he came to the decision after an investigation and after receiving an autopsy report.

The body was sent to Grand Prairie, where funeral services will be held Thursday.

Fountain, who could not swim, was found dead in the pool late Monday afternoon. He belonged to the Houston Colts system.

Mets Break Many Records In 19-1 Romp Over Cubs

CHICAGO (AP)—Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Mets did a jig in the dressing room and said he expected other club owners to be knocking at his door in possible player deals.

Casey had reason to be jubilant. After all, his Mets had turned in the greatest effort in their three-year history with a 19-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs Tuesday.

"I suppose most of the club owners will be trying to contact me now to get my players," said Stengel. He then winked roughly at a photographer and said "What brings you down here, young man? We don't see much of you people lately."

Casey had every reason to be merry. His Mets had cracked every one of their existing records since they entered the National League in 1962.

Their 19 runs exceeded their previous high by five. Their 23 hits topped their previous total of 16 which one was claimed was done "several times in two games."

But that wasn't all. For the first time in Met history a player collected five hits in one game. That was Dick Smith, a first baseman who came into the game with a .224 average resulting from 13 previous hits in 58 times at bat.

And to top it, pitcher Jack Fisher hurled his first complete game in 17 starts. The last time he accomplished the feat was as a member of the San Francisco Giants a year ago May 3. His victims were the Mets.

The Mets, however, were not about to destroy their image. As baseball's clown princes they have been consistent losers. Losing big has been their habit. Winning big as they did against the Cubs remains part of the game.

Brillion Golf Club Will Open Thursday

Dear Run Layout Has Per of 36 Over 3,050 Yards

BRILLION — Brillion's new Dear Run Golf Club will open unofficially at 8 a.m. Thursday.

Parts of the new 9-hole course are still in the finishing stages, and work will be maintained while play is going on.

The 36 per course is located about one-half mile south of Brillion on route 114 and is being developed by Earl Behnke and Eugene Olm of Brillion. It has a total of 3,050 yards and five water hazards. A spring-fed creek meanders through the course and there is natural wildlife in the area — pheasants, ducks and deer. There is a watering system for the course so that every tee and green can be watered simultaneously.

The course comprises an area of about 70 acres and there is acreage available adjacent to the course for developing another nine holes, if desired.

The clubhouse is completed and tentative plans call for its being open for business on Thursday, also. Light lunches and beverages will be served.

The building is a bi-level structure of frame construction with a Valders stone front. A six foot veranda extends on three sides for the relaxation of customers. The building will be fully air-conditioned. There are men's and ladies shower rooms on the lower level, plus dressing rooms. Each level is 60 feet by 30 feet, with the total area of 3,300 square feet. There will be 80 lockers available, with more to be added if the need is felt. Golf clubs and carts will be available for rent in the clubhouse and balls and tees will be sold.

Work began on the project May 18, 1963.

formance has made them somewhat modest souls, did most of the damage with a couple of fellows named Smith. They weren't the tough drop boys but Dick and Charley certainly irritated the Cubs as New York sprayed 23 hits against six Chicago hurlers.

Smith Gets

Dick Smith became the first Met ever to get five hits in a game with three singles, a double and a triple. Charley Smith belted a three-run homer, the game's only four bagger, and added two singles for five RBI.

Jack Fisher, delighted with the fantastic support, fashioned a four-hitter and went the distance for the first time since May 3, 1963.

Pirates Romp

While the Mets were wearing out Cub foldiers, Pittsburgh gave Philadelphia a similar treatment. The Pirates scored 10 runs in the first two innings and coasted to a 13-4 victory. Houston dropped Milwaukee 4-2 and Cincinnati whipped Los Angeles 6-2. San Francisco and St. Louis were rained out.

The Mets jumped on Cub starter Bob Buhl for four runs in the first and completed the carnage with six runs in the ninth. In between they kept the Cubs chasing base hits all over the field and looked like any thing but cellar dwellers.

What can they do for an encore? Well, they have their ace, Al Jackson, scheduled to pitch today. It's the best they can offer.

Manny Mota had a solo homer and Jim Pagliaroni crashed a grand slammer as the Pirates hopped on Chris Short and Dallas Green in the first two innings.

Law in 6-Hitter

Vern Law won it with a six-hitter fanning seven and walking one. Cookie Rojas and John Callison homered for the Phils. Don Drysdale permitted just three hits but Cincinnati bunched them in the second inning and combined with Drysdale's throwing error on an attempted pickoff it led to a 3-0 Reds' lead.

Cincinnati added three in the ninth against Ron Perranoski. Bob Purkey had a four-hit shut-out until Tommy Davis singled and Frank Howard cracked his 13th homer in the 9th.

conference Tuesday and firmly said there will be no trading—or a salary boost—at this time. Chance stirred up a small furor when he said in an interview Monday that Angel President Bob Reynolds had in effect promised to go over General Manager Fred Haney's head in his demand for a salary boost. Reynolds said Tuesday that he recently had lunch with Chance after advising both Haney and field manager Bill Rigney of the date. But Reynolds said he made it plain to 22-year-old Dean that there would be no discussion of money.

Fatherly Advice

He said he told Chance that any talk of pay must be handled by Haney. All Reynolds gave Dean was some fatherly advice, chiefly related to winning ball games, the money would take care of itself, he said.

Sitting alongside Reynolds, Haney declared:

"I think Chance has been treated more than fairly. He started out as a $500-a-month pitcher and now is making $18,000 (a season)."

"Chance came into my office not asking but demanding more money."

Haney said he told him that if he had a season to warrant it, adjustments in his contract would be made as had been done in the past. Haney added that the season was only two or three weeks old and talk of this kind was premature.

Haney said Chance stormed out after cracking, "All right, I'll pitch an $18,000 season."

Someone asked Haney how much an $18,000 season was, and Rigney chimed in without blinking an eye. "24 winning games."

All officials agreed Chance has great potential and as far as Rigney is concerned, Chance may pitch tonight. All hands also agreed that this was the end of discussion of the Chance situation.

Riverside No. 1 picked up a forfeit win over CWA Local 5521. Court House, IPC and Riverside are tied for the top spot with 3-1 logs.

Wendell Longworth clouted a pair of homers, but his Wisconsin Wire mates dropped a narrow decision. Longworth rapped a 3-run blast in the sixth and followed it up with a 2-run homer in the seventh.

Don Powers led Court House with 3-for-3. Gerry LaMarche and Ken Hoffman collected three hits for the losers.

Valley Iron rallied for three runs in the seventh inning for a 4-3 edge and held off IPC for the victory. Don Gilbert was the victim of the 3-run uprising. Gilbert yielded the victors just two hits.

Charles Deeg fashioned a 7-hitter for the victory. Don Sachs had three hits, and Harry Olm had two for the losers.

Appleton West Legion Team Trims Roster

The roster of the Appleton American Legion "West" team has been reduced to 16 players. The club plans to play 27 games, according to Manager Bob Beltrone. Eighteen of the games will be in the Southern Division of the Fox River Valley League. Thus far, four exhibitions have been scheduled, and five more will be added.

Season passes ($1 for an entire family) will be on sale soon. The passes will be good for all home games (league and exhibition) of both the Appleton East and West Legion teams. All games are slated for Goodland Field, and concession stands will be open for the first time.

Six of the 16 players on the West roster are listed as pitchers—either full-time or in combination with some other position. For example pitcher Neil Weber will also see action at first base, as will Paul DeNoble. Roger Huebner, Ted Olson and Gary McIntyre are pitcher-outfielders. The other hurler is Lee Kiepe.

2 Catchers Listed

Don Hurley will take over as the No. 1 catcher. Terry Sole, a transfer who played one year

Sooners Pick Lawyer, Coach As Candidates

Democrats Select Harris to Oppose GOP's Wilkinson

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Oklahoma Democrats Tuesday night tapped Fred Harris, a 33-year-old attorney, as their man to tackle the pride of the Republicans — ex-football coach Bud Wilkinson — for the U. S. Senate.

Harris beat incumbent Sen. J. Howard Edmondson, whose meteoric rise in politics was cut short by sudden and overwhelming defeat.

Even more surprising was the victory of under-aged Jed Johnson over 6th District Rep. Victor Wickersham, an 18-year veteran of the lower chamber. The minimum age for a congressman is 25—and Johnson won't be that old until December.

Harris received 270,928 votes to 172,785 for Edmondson with all but a handful of the state's 3,044 precincts still out.

Johnson, who just barely won a runoff spot against Wickersham after the May 5 primary, had 42,185 votes to 40,973 for Wickersham with all precincts reported.

Harris' stunning triumph was the climax to a bitter campaign. Wilkinson, the Republican glamour candidate who turned to politics from a career as Oklahoma football coach, commented after Harris' victory that he hopes for a fall campaign based on issues rather than personalities.

State Senator

Harris, a state senator and Lawton attorney, ran 5th in a field of 12 for the Democratic nomination for governor in 1962.

Edmondson's defeat in the Senate race was almost as great as his victory when he was elected governor in 1958. He resigned about a week before his term was to expire to accept a two-year appointment to the Senate after the death of Robert S. Kerr.

It is the final two years of Kerr's term which is involved in the current campaign.

Harris carried 74 of Oklahoma's 77 counties, missing out by only eight votes in Edmondson's home county, Muskogee, and in Cherokee and Adair counties.

Harris won the endorsement of Sen. Kerr's widow. The Kerr Senate staff formed the core of his campaign organization.

World Chiefs Hail Nehru as Great Leader

said "India has lost its father and the whole world grieves. . . . At a critical time for his country and the world we have lost a towering leader whose wisdom is sorely needed."

Saying he was profoundly grieved, Premier Khrushchev said in Moscow that Nehru had made an important contribution to world peace.

The official Soviet Tass news agency called Nehru an outstanding statesman and a great friend of the Soviet Union.

Officials and newspapers in Cairo expressed shock at the death. Egypt and India were leaders of the nonaligned nations and President Gamal Abdul Nasser was a long time friend of Nehru. The Egyptian state radio praised Nehru for "his immortal work for the sake of peace and his efforts for peaceful coexistence."

Premier Taher Yahya of Iraq in a cable to New Delhi said Nehru's loss "is a loss to all the world because of his constant struggle for peace."

President Tito of Yugoslavia, who worked closely with Nehru, was reported shocked by the news.

Praise From Asians

In Asia there was an outpouring of condolences.

Prime Minister Hayata Ikeda of Japan sent condolences and his spokesman declared "The untimely death of Prime Minister Nehru, who was not only a fighter for independence for India but a leader for peace in Asia and the world, is a tragic misfortune for all mankind."

President Diosdado Macapagal of the Philippines said Asia had lost its foremost statesman. Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman of Malaysia said Nehru's death "came as a tremendous shock to me." President Chung Hee Park of South Korea expressed "shock and sorrow."

A dissenting view came from Hsieh Cheng-yu, a leading member of the foreign relations committee of the Chinese Nationalist parliament.

"We hope," Hsieh said, "that Nehru's successor will correct lay to American consular officials."

George Reedy, White House press secretary, was asked whether this would apply to any Americans who might be arrested on espionage charges.

"The statement says for any reasons," Reedy replied.

Johnson said the agreement, which must be ratified by the Senate before it can take effect, will be signed in Moscow on June 1.

Foy Kohler, U.S. ambassador in Moscow, will sign for the United States. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko is expected to sign for Russia.

In announcing the completion of lengthy negotiations on the agreement, Johnson hailed the treaty as "a significant step in our continuing efforts to increase contacts and understanding between the American people and the peoples of the Soviet Union."

Same Veil

In the same vein, Johnson concluded his statement with these words:

"It is my hope that this treaty—the first bilateral treaty between the United States and the Soviet Union—will be a step forward in developing understanding between our two countries—which is so important in the continuing struggle for peace."

Johnson, in citing improved consular services to be made possible in both countries as a result of the treaty, said Americans visiting the Soviet Union either as tourists or for business reasons "will have available to them a greater degree of consular protection than ever before."

Benefits Listed

Johnson listed these other potential benefits:

"American businessmen and shipping companies will be able to call on U.S. consular services to assist in representing their interests. And the mechanics for dealing with a whole range of legal problems from complicated questions of inheritance to simply notary services will be considerably eased."

The United States and the Soviet Union have entered into a number of treaties which also involved other signatory countries.

Modern 'Betsy Ross' Found in Arizona

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Luke Air Force Base had a traditional four-star flag for Gen. Maxwell Taylor's visit Tuesday, and Sharon Wynn has the nickname of "Betsy Ross."

Luke officials discovered Monday afternoon that they lacked the proper flag to greet the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff. They called on Mrs. Wynn, who runs a clothing specialty shop.

She started working on it at 5 in the afternoon and finished the 18-by-26 inch flag at 7 a.m. Tuesday, after sewing through the night.

we prepare for another four years of Democratic leadership."

Departing from his prepared text, the President, who never officially has said he will be a candidate next fall, added:

"I hope that you are all going to be with me for these years of achievement that are yet to come."

Johnson spent much of his speech pointing with pride to past accomplishments of Democratic presidents, and promising great things for the future.

But as an incumbent, he did not view with alarm anything, past, present or future.

He said: "Our legacy from the past is our faith in the future. From Jefferson to Kennedy we in this hall have received that legacy—a torch passed from one generation to the next."

"Let us carry that torch proudly toward our vision of the future."

As Democrats glowed, Republican Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware glowered and tried to get a Senate investigation of reported solicitation of career government employees to buy tickets to the fund-raising affair.

Williams introduced a resolution in the Senate Tuesday asking Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy to determine whether solicitation of career employees is a violation of the law.

Johnson Gives Broad Hint of His Candidacy

Democrats Raise About $1 Million
At Party Festivities

BY W. B. RAGSDALE JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democrats gaily chorused "Once in Love with Lyndon" as they poured an estimated million dollars into the party treasury Tuesday night and heard President Johnson stop just short of declaring what everyone knows: that he plans to be around for four more years. Republicans were singing another tune.

They charged that career government employees had been pressured into taking part in the $100-a-ticket Democratic frolic.

The festivities were part of fund-raising efforts expected to net more than $3 million this week for the 1964 Democratic presidential campaign. A re-run of the whole show is scheduled Thursday night in New York.

6,000 In Armory

Some 6,000 turned out for the star-filled "Salute to Johnson" show at the District of Columbia Armory, with 750 persons on hand for the earlier $1,000-a-plate dinner with the President.

No figures were available, but the festivities probably contributed at least the $1 million predicted in advance.

But Johnson, with tongue firmly in cheek, insisted it was not a political shindig.

"This show is open to anyone who wants to contribute $100 to the Democratic campaign," he said.

Gives Broad Hint

On the serious side, Johnson told the crowd, "This is a significant moment. You are gathering one Democratic administration draws to a close—and as

Johnson Method For Funds Seen As 'Barebones'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Add the barebones technique to President Johnson's long list of ways of getting things done.

It served to get the foreign aid bill through the House Foreign Affairs Committee, and it may well get the bill all the way through Congress virtually untouched.

For the first time since the foreign aid program started back in the days after World War II, the Foreign Affairs Committee did not cut even one cent from the total.

Not only that, it added an extra $125 million to jack up the war effort in Viet Nam, making a total of about $3.5 billion for economic aid and military assistance to countries around the world.

A final routine vote by the committee on a clean copy of the bill is expected today to send it on its way to the House floor.

Last year, by contrast, President John F. Kennedy first asked for $4.9 billion for the program. By the time it had threaded its way through the appropriations process it came out at $3.3 billion.

Foreign Affairs Chairman Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., said in past years "everybody looked on this as a padded affair. This is a complete reversal. I think the President took a look at this thing and said he wasn't going through that procedure and run that gamut."

Japanese Cool on Mikoyan's Proposals

TOKYO (AP)—Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan returned home today without agreement on two major proposals he brought from Premier Khrushchev.

The Japanese balked on conclusion of a World War II peace treaty because the Soviets refused to return several islands off northern Japan. They made agreement to joint efforts for a total nuclear test ban conditional on Soviet acceptance of an effective policing system.

Two weeks of discussion also failed to produce agreement on a Tokyo-Moscow airline.

Rusk to Lead U. S. Group to Nehru Rites

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk made emergency preparations to lead a high-level U.S. delegation today to the funeral of Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India.

Roused before daybreak to receive notice of the death of the Indian leader, Rusk arranged to fly out of Andrews Air Force Base, Md. for New Delhi. Word of Nehru's death also was relayed to President Johnson in the early hours.

Other members of Rusk's party were Assistant Secretary of State Phillips Talbot, in charge of Far Eastern and Southeast Asian affairs, and U.S. Ambassador Chester Bowles, who has been at home for consultations.

India's defense minister, Y. B. Chavan, who had been visiting the United States and negotiating for arms aid, was invited to accompany the party.

Chavan, who has been mentioned in some quarters as a possible successor to Nehru, was notified of the prime minister's death in Colorado Springs, Colo., where he was visiting the U.S. Air Force Academy. Until the trip with Rusk was set up, he had planned to leave at once for New York and fly home from there.

2 Classes of Sales Taxes Are Dropped by State

MADISON (AP)—Two classes of sales taxes were eliminated under bills signed into law by Gov. John W. Reynolds Tuesday.

One measure removes the fee on laundry, dry cleaning, pressing and dyeing services when the work involves raw materials or goods destined for sale.

The other eliminates the sales tax on motor fuel for pleasure boats, motors and trailers.

The governor also signed a bill to increase from 10 to 20 acres the amount of church or religious association property that may be exempted from taxes.

Other bills will:

Permit employers of non-residents to pay up to $1,500 in wages for services performed in Wisconsin without subjecting the wages to withholding taxes.

Change the penalty for late filing of state tax returns from 10 per cent of the tax due to a flat $10 and impose a one per cent a month delinquent interest penalty.

Civil Rights Bill Nears Showdown

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate leaders are scrambling for the votes needed to apply cloture now that a showdown over the civil rights bill appears certain next month.

A revised bill—compromised to attract the undecided but retaining the basic provisions of the version which cleared the House Feb. 10—was finally introduced in the Senate Tuesday after weeks of tinkering.

The bipartisan leaders immediately voiced varying degrees of confidence that it will clear the Senate in June.

First, however, the rights forces must get two-thirds of the senators present and voting to approve an end to debate, which is in its 65th day today.

Affected by Saigon Coups

BY FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is unlikely to admit it, but it seems apparent the plan to wind up the major part of the U.S. military effort in South Viet Nam by the end of 1965 has quietly withered away.

When officials are reminded of that plan, announced last October, they reply: "But there have been two coups in Saigon since then."

What they mean is that the effort against the Communist insurgents has been set back by confusion and disorganization stemming from two changes in the South Vietnamese government.

These were the overthrow of the Diem regime by a military junta in November and the overthrow of the junta by another military group in January.

The belief is that the 15,000 U.S. military men in South Viet Nam will not be reduced appreciably, if at all, this year, and perhaps not to any great extent next year.

New plans to double the number of Vietnamese pilots and to boost the Vietnamese ground forces by some 50,000 men will entail increased U.S. training responsibilities that will carry over at least into 1965.

Some U.S. advisers will return home as their tasks are finished—as the Vietnamese get the hang of doing certain things for themselves.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara says repeatedly

An AP News Analysis

it will be a long, hard struggle before the Communists are overcome in Viet Nam.

The latest indication that the end-of-1965 target date has been shelved came Tuesday after McNamara testified in secret before the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., the committee chairman, said McNamara "was not as optimistic on his timetable as he had been before."

Actually, McNamara for some time has avoided any direct answer to reporters' questions about whether the 1965 objective still holds.

Some officials contend there never was a flat commitment to pull out the bulk of U.S. military men by the end of next year.

Statement in October

They say it was an objective predicated on the ability of the South Vietnamese to stand on their own feet and to control most of their country, and on political stability in Viet Nam.

These officials also note that the statement setting the 1965 target date specified that some U.S. rainers probably would have to stay on beyond that time.

That statement was issued by the White House on Oct. 2 after McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the

World Leaders in Tribute to Nehru

Late Prime Minister Hailed As Asia's Top Statesman

LONDON (AP)—The death of Prime Minister Nehru of India shocked the capitals of the world today. Tributes poured forth from friend and foe alike.

Perhaps the most moving scene came at Geneva, where the delegate of Pakistan, a nation that once fought India and had no use for Nehru, rose to address the U.N. World Trade and Development Conference.

His voice breaking with emotion, Pakistani delegate Habibur Rahman declared:

"He was a champion of liberty and freedom throughout the world and played a dominant role in the struggle for the independence of the Indian subcontinent. Pakistan joins with all its heart in the condolences offered to the Indian delegation and the Indian people."

Among the first condolences to reach New Delhi were those from Britain, head of the British Commonwealth of which India is a member.

Queen's Message

Queen Elizabeth sent this message to President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan:

"I am deeply grieved to hear of the death of Mr. Nehru, who will be mourned throughout the commonwealth and among the

Admiral of the Fleet Lord Mountbatten, who was Britain's last viceroy in India before independence, will represent the queen at the funeral. Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home will represent the government.

Said Mountbatten: "He was one of the great figures of his time and the world is poorer for his passing. He was a most magnanimous man who never showed the slightest personal resentment at being kept so many years in prison by us."

"He was a great world figure and perhaps might be regarded as a doyen (dean) of world statesmen," said Earl Attlee who was prime minister when India became independent in 1947. He also praised Nehru for his lack of bitterness against British rulers who clapped him in prison many times during the struggle for independence.

Experts Detonate Civil War Torpedo

GREENVILLE, Miss (AP)—A century-old experimental torpedo—nugged from its Civil War grave in the old Mississippi River channel near Vicksburg—has been detonated.

Demolition experts blasted the cigar-shaped Union navy torpedo Tuesday at Greenville Air Force Base.

The torpedo was discovered Sunday by William W. Felker of Greenville, while fishing near Vicksburg. Felker said he drove home "with the thing rolling around in the back of my car."

A. W. Banton, resident historian of the Vicksburg National Military Park, said a check with the Smithsonian Institution indicated the torpedo was the first such of Civil War vintage ever discovered.

Coffey told John H. Givens, 27, chairman of the local chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality, "If you do this again, and cause the court to declare a mistrial, I'll hold you in contempt. This is a judicial proceeding and the court expects you to act like a gentleman."

Givens said he had made a thumbs-down motion while County Board Chairman Eugene Grobschmidt was testifying because "many things that Mr. Grobschmidt is saying are lies."

Held Prime Minister's Post Since Nation Gained Its Independence in 1947

BY CONRAD FINK

NEW DELHI (AP)—Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru, the aristocratic statesman who led India in the paths of neutralism and socialism since it became independent in 1947, died today after suffering his second stroke in less than five months. He was 74.

Home Minister G. L. Nanda, a senior cabinet member who has a reputation for getting things done, was sworn in as acting prime minister 10 hours after Nehru's death.

Nanda was sworn in by President Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan. An elderly philosopher renowned in world academic circles, Radhakrishnan was charged under the constitution to take over the government on the death of the prime minister, but Nanda was quickly chosen to handle the administrative details.

Nehru's death was attributed to a heart attack and shock.

"The prime minister is no more," Steel Minister C. Subramaniam told the sobbing Parliament. "Life is out. The light is out."

A state funeral and cremation will be held quickly, in accordance with Indian custom. The Defense Ministry said the funeral procession would start in New Delhi Thursday morning.

Ashes Into River

If the usual custom is followed, Nehru's ashes will be strewn in the nation's holy rivers, probably at Allahabad, his birthplace, at the confluence of the Ganges, the Jumna and the mythological underground Saraswati River.

In London, Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home said he would fly to India this afternoon for the funeral. Buckingham Palace said Queen Elizabeth II would be represented by Earl Mountbatten, who was India's last viceroy and first governor general and a close friend of Nehru's.

Home Secretary V. Viswanathan said Nehru's physicians attributed his death to "heart attack and shock."

Nehru was stricken at 6:25 a.m. as he arose at his usual hour. He died at 2 p.m.—4:30 a.m. EDT, seven hours and 35 minutes later. A stroke on Jan. 7 had partially paralyzed his left side but he had recovered somewhat and in recent weeks had resumed his seat in Parliament.

His only child, Mrs. Indira Gandhi, was with him when he died. A large group of doctors was in attendance. The U.S. Embassy offered its medical staff and equipment, but an embassy spokesman said the Indian government did not request assistance.

Sisters Fly to New Delhi

Nehru's two sisters, Mrs. Vijayalakshmi Pandit and Mrs. Krishna Hutheesingh, left Bombay by special plane for New Delhi.

Mrs. Pandit is governor of Maharashtra State.

Nehru's death urgently raised a question that has plagued India.

America Signs Consular Pact With Soviets

Johnson Terms Event a Step in Understanding

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson announced today an historic consular treaty with the Soviet Union and termed the event "a significant step" in building understanding between the American and Soviet peoples.

The treaty, announced simultaneously in Washington and Moscow, will provide for the opening of consular offices in the two countries. It is the first treaty ever negotiated between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Johnson, citing the advantages which he expects this country to receive as a result of the agreement, said that when the treaty takes effect "Americans detained in the Soviet Union for any reasons will be assured of access without delay."

New York Mob Shouts for Lynching of Holdup Killer

NEW YORK (AP)—"Lynch cash register and fled, pursued him. Kill him," shouted a mob by the customer.

Police arrested Cook after they found him in bushes in a church yard.

Esmond, married and the father of one, was well-known in the Vinegar Hill section of Manhattan's upper West Side, a predominantly white neighborhood. A crowd gathered at the bar at 3299 Broadway and the noisiest ratted and pounded on the door, shouting for a lynching.

Last Friday night, L. Carroll Adams, 56, a professor of physical education at Columbia University, was attacked and through the mob to a patrol car robbed of $70 by about 20 teenagers with the Negro. They said early Negroes.

Today that the man, Alonzo Cook, 20, of Harlem, had admitted the shooting.

He was booked on a charge of homicide.

"Are you kidding?" Esmond asked, and was shot twice. The gunman grabbed $40 from the

Van Pelt Says Civil Rights Bill 'Watered'

Fond du Lac Congressman Claims Democrats 'Backing Down' in Address to Calumet County GOP

Ray Hemingson Seeks Waupaca Assembly Seat

Three-Way Contest Develops for Post in September Primary

WAUPACA — Ray Hemingson, route 2, announced today he will be a candidate for Waupaca County assemblyman in the September primary on the Republican Party ticket.

His entry into the contest makes it a three-way race as Dist. Atty. Gerald K. Anderson and Carlton "Cal" Cheek, Weyauwega, have already announced. The incumbent, Richard Peterson, Waupaca, has said he will not seek re-election.

Hemingson said he has decided to enter the contest because very few farmers and small businessmen have attempted to be elected to the Assembly to represent all the people.

Hemingson was a silver fox rancher for 20 years and was a long time guernsey breeder, horticulturist and operator of a 500-acre farm in the Town of Farmington.

Cooperative Director

He is director and first vice president of Consolidated Badger Co-operative, Inc., and he helped sponsor the original bovine bangs control program in the county to eliminate undulant fever in humans. Hemingson co-sponsored, with state dairy leaders, the formation of the Wisconsin Dairy Association and Alice in Dairyland program in conjunction with the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture. Several times he was a delegate to annual meetings of the Wisconsin Creamery Association, Wisconsin Council of Agriculture and the Wisconsin Dairy Association.

Other activities include director and secretary of the Northwestern Co-operative, Waupaca; president of the first Junior Poultry Club in Wisconsin; Wisconsin supervisor of the American Trappers Association, secretary-treasurer of the National Fur Breeders Association, township chairman of the agricultural adjustment board, service on the town building and zoning committee and a developer of the Chain O'Lakes Ski area, which hosted the first winter carnival.

Hemingson is married and has one son.

BY DOUG KOPLIEN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

CHILTON — Republican Rep. William Van Pelt, Sixth District, Tuesday criticized Democrats for "backing down" on their civil rights bill stand.

Speaking to Calumet County GOP leaders in Chilton the congressman said Democrats who introduced the bill at first were "hotly in favor of the bill being passed with no changes."

Since that time, he said, "they have backpeddled to the point where they are willing to accept anything to get the bill passed."

Van Pelt, Fond du Lac, who is running for his eighth consecutive term in the House, said when the bill is passed it could be "just a name" or could give only voting privileges. He is the only state congressman who voted against the bill in the House.

Wisconsin Law

"Everything in the bill at the present time is in the Wisconsin Statute Books," he explained, and added, "the bill would do nothing for the state except give a federal agency the right to intervene in state affairs."

Industries in the Sixth District recently have been approached by federal agencies asking why more colored people aren't on the payroll, he said.

"A complaint which has been filed against a firm is kept secret and the firm has no way of finding out who filed the complaint," Van Pelt said.

In addition, he explained, the electorate has no say in the matter of prosecuting violations. Van Pelt said the complaint is filed with a civil rights committee, investigated by the attorney general's office and heard before a federal judge, all presidential appointments.

Poverty Program

He said he was returning to Washington in early June to take part in the House discussion in the poverty program proposed by President Lyndon Johnson.

This program, he said, is a "give-away to encourage people not to help themselves. Almost a billion dollars will be spent the first year to encourage unemployment."

"Poverty stricken people, at the present time," Van Pelt explained, "can adequately be handled by state and local agencies without intervention by the federal government."

"This problem should be handled by the local government on a basis of need rather than an across-the-board handout," the President's plan advocates," he stated.

In discussing the proposed Ice Age Park, which he opposes, Van Pelt said there is no need for the federal government to enter into the operation and maintenance of a park.

He said more than $900,000 was to be allocated for the park, $50,000 of which was to be used for a reevaluation of the proposed program. The program was supposed to be ready, he said, and now its backers say the expenditure is needed to reevaluate.

$900,000 Allocation

The Conservation Department, Van Pelt charged, would have had to allocate $900,000 for the park, but money is not available now.

The Wisconsin Republican Party is more unified than it has been in years, the incumbent representative said and added, "This year the party is presenting an outstanding ticket."

Lawrence Beck Candidate for Assembly Seat

Kaukauna Insurance Salesman 2nd GOP Hopeful in Primary

Lawrence D. Beck, 41, a Kaukauna insurance salesman, said today that he is a Republican candidate for Outagamie County's Second District assemblyman's post.

Beck, a newcomer to politics, has one announced GOP opponent in the September primary election, Norman Austin, Oneida town supervisor and chairman. The incumbent in the Second District is William Rogers, Kaukauna, a Democrat.

Outagamie County's new Second District, recently carved out by the State Supreme Court in its reapportionment edict, includes the towns of Buchanan, Freedom, Kaukauna, Oneida, Osborn, Seymour and Vandenberg; the villages of Combined Locks, Kimberly and Little Chute, and the cities of Kaukauna and Seymour.

"No Fancy Claims"

Beck, who is a member of the Outagamie County and the Heart of the Valley Republican clubs, said, "I have no fancy claims to make. I'm running primarily because I have an interest in good government with my background and my understanding of human relations. I feel qualified to represent the people of this district."

The GOP candidate lives on County Trunk K, about a half mile southwest of Kaukauna. For the last nine years he has been engaged in life insurance sales, plus estate planning and counseling.

Beck lived in Kimberly for five years before moving to his present home. While in Kimberly, he was a member of the Kimberly Businessmen's Association and was president of the group in 1958.

Menasha Native

He is past president of the Home-School Association at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Kaukauna, and is chairman of the speakers bureau for the Appleton Serra Club which takes in the entire Fox Cities area. Also, estimable help in providing funds for purchase of strategic land acreage.

The Banta management also provided for the gift of a bronze statue of Red Bird, famous Indian chieftain, which has been mounted on a huge boulder overlooking Lake Winnebago. The Aug. 22, 1922 He attended Menasha public schools and graduated from Menasha High School. He later attended Lakeview School of Art in Milwaukee.

Beck is married and has four children — two boys and two girls — ranging in age from 2 to 14 years.

Federal Holiday

Post offices throughout the Fox Valley area will be closed Saturday for Memorial Day. There will be no mail delivery.

H. J. Ramsdell Is New London Superintendent

Board Announces Hiring of Former Weyauwega Man

NEW LONDON — H. James Ramsdell, a veteran educator and native of Spooner, has been hired as superintendent of the New London Unified District, it was announced at Tuesday's board of education meeting.

Ramsdell, who will replace Lloyd Qualley, is presently superintendent of schools at Weyauwega Union High School and Weyauwega Elementary School, a post which he has held for the past two and one-half years.

Qualley resigned as superintendent to take a similar position at Park Falls, Wis.

Before taking the Weyauwega post, Ramsdell was the superintendent of schools at Hammond, Wis., for three years and before that he was principal of Magnolia, Minn., High School for two years.

Takes Over July 1

The new superintendent will take over his duties at New London July 1 and will move to the city as soon as housing can be found. He said he will work with the New London school officials to become familiar with the district during the weeks before he takes over.

Mr. and Mrs. Ramsdell have two children, Bruce 7, and Susan 3.

Ramsdell was selected by the board of education from more than 40 candidates from Wisconsin and neighboring states.

Post-Crescent Buys Milwaukee Weekly Paper

Purchase of the North Star, a suburban weekly newspaper distributed in the northern section of the city of Milwaukee, was announced today by the Post-Corporation of Appleton. It is the second suburban weekly in the Milwaukee area to be bought by the firm, the West Allis Star having been acquired in January.

The paper was purchased from North Star, Inc., of which Robert W. Wiesian has been publisher and editor since the paper was founded two years ago. Wiesian will remain as editor.

V. J. Minahan, president of the Appleton-based publishing and broadcasting firm, commented that "the new Star in the Milwaukee area will make both papers a stronger voice in their respective communities."

Search Party Finds Theft, Men Missing

FREMONT — An airplane search for two youthful anglers Sunday turned up a theft instead.

The Conservation Department plane was sent out from the department's Oshkosh of office after two young Illinois men departed on a Wolf River fishing excursion early Saturday morning and failed to return by Sunday morning.

Their disappearance was reported by Bruce Goode, Fremont Hotel manager. Seven wardens and the aerial search failed to turn up any evidence of what was at first feared to be a drowning.

Leland Wohlt, Fremont, later reported an abandoned boat in a canal at Wolf River Crossing Park. It was the boat the men had rented from the hotel but an outboard motor and life preservers, also rented from the hotel, were missing.

High Cliff Forest Park To Be Dedicated June 27

Ceremonies to Take Place at Harbor Mouth

NEENAH — Dedication of High Cliff Forest Park, including the Marina, will be held at 1:30 p.m. Saturday, June 27, according to preliminary plans announced by S. F. Shattuck, Neenah, chairman of the Forest Park Association's waterfront committee and program chairman.

The park will be formally dedicated by Guido R. Rahr, chairman of the Wisconsin Conservation Commission Gordon A. Buson, manager, who with Lewis F. Nelson, Kaukauna, was responsible for getting the park project started, will be principal speaker. Further program details will be announced early in June, Shattuck said.

Site of the dedication ceremony will be the area adjoining the comfort station immediately southeast of the harbor entrance channel.

Since 1929

The June 27 dedication will climax many years of activity to secure the High Cliff bluff for park purposes, Shattuck said. As far back as 1929 a stirring of interest was noted for the park, but the present project was begun with an area citizens' movement in 1953.

During that year, 1953, the High Cliff Forest Association was organized and incorporated and members of the association solicited help and raised approximately $27,000 as a challenge fund to be used for building or facilities, provided the state conservation commission entered upon a program of land purchase in the High Cliff area.

500 Acres

Two hundred and eighty-eight acres, including about 10,000 feet of shoreline, were purchased by the commission from the Western Lime and Cement Co. with additional land acquisition Home-School Association at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Kaukauna, and is chairman of the speakers bureau for the Appleton Serra Club which takes in the entire Fox Cities area. Clintonville Priest to Note 25th Anniversary

Solemn High Mass, Dinner and Evening Reception Thursday for Rev. Koszarek

CLINTONVILLE — The 25th anniversary of the Rev. Thaddeus Koszarek's ordination to the priesthood will be observed Thursday with a solemn high mass, dinner and evening reception at St. Rose Catholic Church.

Father Koszarek has been pastor of St. Rose since Sept. 12, 1963. He was ordained on May 31, 1939, at St. Francis Xavier Cathedral, Green Bay.

Father Koszarek will be celebrant at the 11 a.m. mass at the church. Assisting as deacon will be the Rev. Felix Van Drise, pastor of St. Francis Church, Gresham, a classmate of Father Koszarek. His brother, the Rev. Paul Koszarek of Sacred Heart Seminary, Oneida, will be subdeacon. The Rev.

Members of the St. Rose Christian Mother-Altar Society will serve. A short program will follow the dinner.

From 6 to 9 p.m., a reception honoring Father Koszarek will be held in the school hall to which all members of the congregation and the community are invited to attend. Arrangements are being made by organizations of the parish.

17 Brothers, Sisters

Father Koszarek, the oldest of 17 children, was born July 24, 1912, in Antigo. He studied for the priesthood at St. Bonaventura's, Sturtevant; St. Mary's College, Orchard Lake, Mich., and St. Paul Seminary, St. Paul, Minn.

He served as an assistant in the Green Bay chancery office following his ordination. In September, 1939, he was named assistant at St. Stanislaus Parish, Stevens Point.

While serving as a U.S. Army chaplain from 1943 to 1946, he was awarded the Silver and Bronze Stars, Croix de Guerre and Golden Cross of Merit from the Polish government in exile in London.

Upon his return to civilian life, he was named temporary administrator of St. Francis, Gresham, and was appointed chaplain of Langlade Memorial Hospital, Antigo, in November, 1946. In 1947 he was assigned as pastor of St. Hedwig parish, West Kewaunee, and later served as pastor of St. John Cantius parish, Sobieski.

Spiritual Director

Father Koszarek joined the faculty of Sacred Heart seminary in 1957, where he was spiritual director until assuming his duties as pastor of St. Rose Church.

He has been diocesan rural life director, and at present is serving as director of displaced persons in the Green Bay diocese.

Father Koszarek has two brothers who are priests, the Rev. Paul Koszarek of Sacred Heart Seminary and the Rev. Martin Koszarek, a Maryknoll father stationed in Kyoto-Fu, Japan.

He also has six sisters dedicated to the religious life, all are Sisters of St. Joseph of the Third Order of St. Francis, one of whom is in Lima, Peru.

Thaddeus Koszarek

Father Koszarek

Richard Maudorf of Sacred Heart Seminary will be Master of Ceremonies, and the Rev. Willard Van De Loo, college dean at the seminary, will give the sermon.

Bishop Bona Present

The Most Rev. Stanislaus V. Bona, bishop of Green Bay, will be present for the mass and dinner. Also planning to attend is the Rt. Rev. Magr. Chester Roppella, chancellor of the Green Bay diocese.

Approximately 50 neighboring clergy and classmates of the celebrant are expected to attend.

A dinner will be served in the St. Rose School hall at 1 p.m. for the visiting clergy, family, relatives, close friends and officials.

CLINTONVILLE — Ervin Steinke, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Steinke, 172 Maize St., escaped injury about 4:05 p.m. Tuesday when he crossed the street on his way home from school and was struck by a car driven by Ed Paul, 33, route 1, Bear Creek, going south on Main Street.

The car had just cleared the Eighth Street intersection when the boy reportedly stepped out ahead of it. Clintonville police checked out the accident.

Ed Rosenfeldt, Clintonville, New Lions District Governor

Election results were announced at the governor's supper Saturday night. Rosenfeldt defeated Les Rose, Green Bay, 79 to 55.

Rosenfeldt was nominated by Zuke Hart, a past governor from the Wayside Morrison Club. He succeeds Carl Schuster, Appleton, the local level.

Boy Wins Bike Riding Contest

Dan Radtke Tops Road-E-O at New London School

NEW LONDON — Dan Radtke won the tenth annual Junior Chamber of Commerce Bike-Road-E-O Sunday at Lincoln School.

The Bike Road-E-O is open to all students from the fourth to eighth grades and is a test of riding skill and safe riding. Laid out on the Lincoln School playground, the course contained a series of blocks through which the contestants had to ride, an obstacle course, various stop points and a stop light. The students were judged on a point system.

First Place winner was also presented the first place $5 cash award. Other winners and the cash awards they received were second place, Greg Baheman, $3; third place, Donn Fuhrmann, $2, and fourth place, Margaret Wright, $1.

The first place winner will also have his name engraved on a plaque kept at his school until the next year's event.

Jaycee officials were Roger Dietz, chairman, Melvin Borchart and Charles Hoffman.

Landing Strip Being Built At Brillion

BRILLION—Work on a landing strip for small aircraft began here Saturday. The strip is the latest project of the Brillion Junior Chamber of Commerce. Jaycee members are locating the strip about a mile south of Brillion on the Earl Behnke farm near the Brillion city cemetery.

The field has been approved by the Federal Aeronautics Administration. When completed, it will be shown on area maps for pilots. It will be a grass strip 2,700 feet long and 200 feet wide. Tie-downs and fuel will be available for aircraft.

Jaycees began planning the project in December. Carl Miller is chairman. A public service project, it was started because area residents expressed an interest in flying. It is also hoped that the airstrip will be a convenience for local industries.

Jaycees will maintain the field. They hope to have the project completed in several months.

Sell Tickets For Swimming At Clintonville

CLINTONVILLE — Swimming pool tickets for the season are available at the office of City Clerk Lloyd Eggleston.

Tickets for the juniors, those under 18 years of age and living within the city limits, can be purchased for $3; adult tickets for those within the city limits, $4; and anyone under 18 years of age and living outside of the city limits of Clintonville, $4.50. (No adult season tickets sold for residents outside of the city limits.)

Carl Bruggink and Roger Davis are again this year will be the managers of the pool for the summer months.

Depending upon the weather, the opening date for the pool is expected to be about the second week in June.

The pool is being sand blasted and the floor is being painted. It is expected that this work will be completed by the end of this week.

Man Injured In Accident Car Skids Out of Control on Road Near New London

NEW LONDON — Russell R. Klug, 23, 412 E. Wisconsin St., Weyauwega, escaped serious injury at 7:45 p.m. Sunday when his car went out of control and rolled over near the intersection of U.S. 10 and County Trunk D, six miles south of here.

Outagamie County police said Klug was traveling west on 10 when he applied his brakes, leaving 186 feet of skid marks. He then apparently released the brakes and traveled 57 feet before reapplying them. The second time Klug applied his brakes he went out of control, police said, and skidded 257 feet broadside on the pavement before crossing the road hitting a road sign and a mail box. The car overturned in the Heckles Super Club parking lot.

Klug suffered bruises and a concussion, a cut on his head and was taken to the Waupaca Riverside Hospital by the Cline and Hanson Ambulance.

Damage to the 1964 car, which Klug had purchased three weeks earlier, was estimated at over $2,000.

Nelson Wants U. S. Disengagement From Military Activity in Viet Nam

Senator's Views Come Under Fire of Fellow Democrats, Lawrence Faculty, at Reception

BY MARK E. OLIVA

Sen. Gaylord Nelson's views on U. S. military activities in Viet Nam came under the fire of some fellow Democrats, mainly Lawrence College faculty members, at a coffee for the senator here Tuesday.

When quizzed on his stand, Nelson said he thought rather than "extend or expand U. S. activities in Viet Nam, an orderly arrangement to disengage ourselves there should be made."

Nelson said although he was not thoroughly familiar with the situation there, "it appears doubtful anything can be done. A time-table to disengage should be set. If the fighting goes any further north, China will enter the battle, and then we'll be fighting the Chinese."

Worried About Asia

One of the faculty members asked if the U. S. let Viet Nam go communist, wouldn't other areas — Laos, Thailand, finally Burma — also go.

Nelson said, "When the established government can't secure the support of the people, it doesn't belong. Any move in Viet Nam has to be an operation of the people. If the U. S.

is responsible for the politics there, the U. S. is governing there," Nelson said.

Nelson added the cost of Viet Nam operations was becoming too high for the U. S. to continue operations practically over an indefinite period.

Lawrence teacher Jim Dana, host to the coffee hour, asked Nelson if perhaps continued operations in Viet Nam, regardless of cost, over a long period of time, might not be a good investment.

A second Lawrence faculty member quoted an aide of President Lyndon Johnson as favoring extension of Viet Nam operations.

Not indefinitely Nelson replied, "That might be the right position — that I don't favor continuation of operations over an indefinite period."

Nelson also was quizzed on the status of the Civil Rights Bill now facing the Senate. The senator predicted a cloture vote to prevent filibuster tactics of Southern Democrats would pass before the end of June. He said the bill now has enough votes to pass, and the 67-vote cloture should pass soon.

When asked why cloture has not passed, Nelson said some senators hope to change the bill before voting for cloture. He said cloture won't go through without some amendments to the bill being approved, and added that he thought the amendments, rather than watering down the bill, would make it a better bill.

Another teacher asked Nelson if rapid recognition by the U. S. of the new Brazilian government indicated a change in policy to support dictatorship. "I'm not real familiar with the situation. I can't answer that," the senator replied.

Cemetery Associations At Dale Pick Officers

DALE — Gilbert Kaufman has been elected a director of Dale Union Cemetery Association for three years.

Other officers elected at the annual meeting are Edward Roesler, president; Le Roy Lemcke, vice president, and Mrs. Eugene Nelson, secretary-treasurer.

Pine Grove Cemetery Association officers also elected were Warren Diley, vice president, Darrell Bottrell, secretary, and David Zehner, director.

Memorial Rites Planned At Shiocton

SHIOCTON — Memorial Day services here will be sponsored by American Legion Post 512. Post Commander Raymond Muskavitch said services will begin at 10:30 a.m. in the Bova Cemetery.

The Rev. Eugene Hotchkiss of St. Denis Catholic Church will be the principal speaker at the traditional commemorative ceremony. Miss Diana Nichols, local Poppy Princess will also speak. Music will be provided by the Shiocton High School band, directed by Edward Wirth.

The colors will be carried by the Junior and Senior Auxiliary units.

Following the services a potluck dinner, which the public is invited to attend, will be held in the American Legion Clubhouse.

anti-Communist cause growing out of repression of the Buddhists by the regime of President Ngo Dinh Diem.
The White House statement said in part:
"Secretary McNamara and Gen. Taylor reported their judgment that the major part of the United States military task can be completed by the end of 1965 although there may be a continuing requirement for a limited number of United States training personnel."

Partial Withdrawal
At the same time, it was announced that 1,000 American military men would be withdrawn by the end of 1965.
This was done, even though a military junta unburdened Diem in the meantime, and the Communists capitalized on the turmoil.

President Johnson sent McNamara and Taylor back to Saigon just before Christmas. Returning, the defense secretary said he had reviewed Vietnamese and American plans for operations in 1964. "We have every reason to believe they will be successful," McNamara stated.
But he ignored a question about the 1965 target, and there was speculation the October plan had been ditched.

Coup by Khanh
In January, McNamara appeared before a House committee behind closed doors. A censored version of his testimony put him on record as saying the United States still hopes to withdraw most of its troops from Viet Nam by the end of 1965. Within a couple of days of Mc-

Namara's testimony, a second coup was staged in South Viet Nam. Maj. Gen. Nguyen Khanh seized power and became the Saigon government's strong man.
Again the Communists struck, and in March an alarmed Johnson administration sent McNamara back to Saigon to see what needed to be done.
It was this March trip that led to a big shift in U.S. aid, including a major increase in the size of the Vietnamese regular and para-military forces.

Little was heard of the end-of-1965 target after that.
The subject was raised at an April 24 news conference, and McNamara said: "I don't want to predict what the totals (of American servicemen in Viet Nam) will be at the end of this year or at the end of 1965."

Nelson Advocates U. S. Withdrawal From Viet Nam

WAUSAU (AP)—Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., said Tuesday "it would be foolish" for the United States to expand the war in Viet Nam and that the U.S. should re-examine its commitment in South Viet Nam and "set some timetable for withdrawing from the situation."
"If the government cannot become viable, independent and successfully defend itself, then the U.S. is going to have to make an orderly withdrawal," Nelson said in an interview.

Nelson was in Wausau for a testimonial dinner for Assemblyman David Obey, D-Wausau.

dia for years—his successor. The strong-willed prime minister held the reins of power firmly and adamantly refused to designate a successor.

Possible Successors
A leading candidate has been Lal Bahadur Shastri, 58, a mild-mannered, 5-foot-2 veteran of the ruling All-India Congress party and a close friend of Nehru. After Nehru's first stroke, he summoned Shastri, made him a Cabinet minister without portfolio and put him in charge.

But when Nehru began recovering, Shastri was elbowed aside and his political stock dropped.

Two other political figures generally regarded as possible successors are Home Minister G. L. Nanda and Finance Minister T. T. Krishnamachari. The Indian constitution provides for the president, normally a ceremonial official, to take over the government on the death of the prime minister.

Nehru was born an aristocrat—a Kashmiri Brahmin, or the highest of the high among Hindus. But Gandhi's persuasion and his own compassion for his oppressed countrymen under British rule drove Nehru and his whole family into the independence movement. It meant years in British jails for him and his father, the wealthy lawyer Motilal Nehru, and others in the family.

Raised in Luxury
The boy raised in the lap of luxury—indoor and outdoor swimming pools at home, ponies to ride, and a British education—often disagreed with the mystic and visionary Mahatmas Gandhi but bowed to Gandhi's will to attain the goal of independence, reached an mid-August 1947.

By then Gandhi's mission was over for all practical purposes and Nehru undertook the perhaps even more arduous task of trying to make a democracy of as curious a crazy quilt pattern of ex-colonial areas, princedoms and satrapies as the world has known—present population about 470 million.

As an elder statesman Gandhi lasted less than six months—until his assassination Jan. 30, 1948—and Nehru then became sole leader.

He believed neither capitalism nor socialism alone would work for India, and he instituted a form of state socialism for heavy industry and utilities, accepting foreign aid where he could get it for these and sponsoring private works where possible.

Nehru steered a careful but perilous course in-world politics and won denunciations from both sides of the cold war as well as praise and cooperation from the nonaligned, or neutral, nations.

Much of the West's dissatisfaction with Nehru resulted from the way his foreign policy was dealt out at the United Nations and elsewhere by his venomous roving defense minister, V. K. Krishna Menon. Menon, a leftist anti-Westerner, fell from grace through lack of preparedness for the Chinese invasion of India in 1962.

Menon was the high-riding defense minister a year earlier when India invaded and seized the Portuguese west coast enclaves of Goa, Damao and Diu after failing to persuade the Portuguese they should leave the subcontinent as the British and French had done. For this exploit Nehru was widely criticized as being inconsistent with his preachments but he claimed India had no alternative in regard to foreign rule.

Red Chinese Attack
A great test of Nehru's neutralism came in the fall of 1962 when Communist China unleashed a powerful attack along the Himalayan border and moved into long-disputed frontier areas.

As the Chinese drove back his poorly equipped army, Nehru assumed near-dictatorial powers, pledged a fight "until final victory is achieved," and turned to the West and to Russia for weapons.

The United States immediately organized an airlift of arms, and it seemed that India, however reluctantly, would be forced to move away from nonalignment.

A bitter dispute then raging between Moscow and Peking over what the Chinese considered a soft Soviet approach toward the West made it easier for Nehru to avoid taking a clear-cut stand, however. He remained on friendly terms with Moscow and, while fighting the border war, continued to maintain diplomatic relations with Peking and to support its bid for U.N. membership. The Chinese abruptly ended their drive after a few weeks fighting and ordered a cease-fire and troop pullback.

Pakistan Problem
Pakistan, the Moslem nation born of the 1947 independence and the British-drawn partition of the subcontinent, was Nehru's greatest single continuing political problem until the 1962 Chinese invasion. But full-scale war between India and Pakistan was averted. Their closest, and continuing, confrontation of arms is in Kashmir, the last prize in the independence grab bag, where their armies are separated by a U.N. truce line.

Nehru had been in waning health for more than two years. In March 1962 he was struck by prostate trouble, his first serious illness after advancing into old age with unusual bounce and vigor. He recovered, but in the ensuing months his appearance aged rapidly.

Energy Waned
The 1962 Chinese invasion acted as a restorative, and he responded with his old vigor. But after the one-month undeclared war ended, his energy began to ebb again.

Nehru's performance became very uneven. Some visitors found him lucid and energetic. But he dozed off on other visitors and occasionally at public functions. Sometimes he walked erect. More often he hobbled along, head bent.

A stroke on Jan. 7 partially paralyzed his left side. He improved slowly, and in recent weeks had resumed some government activities, including appearances in Parliament.

What Does a Number Mean?

See how cold a number is?
It isn't pretty to the eye, like a flower.
It doesn't have the sweet promise that there is in a little boy or a little girl.
It doesn't fulfill a father's obligation and it doesn't serve as a good substitute for a devoted mother.
It isn't a very good friend; it couldn't be an uncle or an aunt or a grandma or a grandpa or a cousin.
355 is a statistic, a number.
In this case it means that 355 people of Wisconsin have quit living because of automobile accidents.
355.
Very cold, very impersonal. Interesting, though.
It helps us to know that people who make mistakes when they drive their cars have taken 355 lives.
These are called "accidents." They aren't really accidents though. They happened because people drove too fast or were careless. But they weren't accidents. They could have been prevented.
355.
The number is very eloquent. It tells us things that we all ought to know.
Oh, it doesn't give us graphic information. It doesn't describe the squeal of brakes, nor the metallic scrunch of metal being tortured.
It doesn't use pretty, colorful words to explain how the tinkle of glass sounded. It doesn't tell about the absolute silence that fills the air for a brief moment after the crash.
It doesn't tell us that the silence is replaced by soft sobbing from somebody in the back seat. It doesn't explain the whimpering that always follows the silence.

It doesn't explain the shock, the dull blank faces of those who were in the accident and remained living. It doesn't explain that there isn't any pain in the injured, that the grievous physical hurts come later—after the shock has worn off.
You can't see an old friend in that figure. You can't see a mother or a father or a little boy or girl. You just see the number.
355.
It is an eloquent figure, though.
In this case, it tells us much more than that 355 Wisconsin people (REALLY, people) have died in automobile crashes in the last 146 days.
355.
It really tells us more than that.
It tells us about our record this year if we compare it to our record last year.
This year we have killed almost 100 people more than we did last year at this time. That's what we learn from the number. Very eloquent. Very informative. But of course you must study it a little.
Last year at this time we killed 272 people. Now we take the 355 and we place it above the 272. Then we subtract. The answer is 83.
We have killed 83 people more than we did last year at this time. In, say, eight or nine days we will have beat last year's number by 100.
100 little boys? Little girls? Mothers? Fathers? Friends? Relatives?
The number doesn't give us this information. All we can find out from it is cold and clear and statistical.
Numbers are not pretty to look at.
355.
See?

Recap on the Wilkie-Boyle Campaign

The executive director of the American Judicature Society, an organization founded to promote the efficient administration of justice, has declared that the issue raised by Howard Boyle over the Tropic of Cancer in Wisconsin's recent Supreme Court election campaign was an improper one, and endangered the independence of the judiciary in the state.
But Glenn Winters also criticized Justice Wilkie for defending himself on the issue and declared that the six members of the Supreme Court who came to Wilkie's defense also acted "improperly." Finally he took the Wisconsin State Bar to task for remaining silent on the issue and not coming to the defense of an independent judiciary in the state.
"The court speaks once it announces a decision," Winters writes, "and if that cannot be taken as final and definitive when can we ever be sure that the last word has been spoken? . . . Independence of the judiciary must include not only independence from executive and legislative, but from all collateral pressures and influences that would lead a judge to decide otherwise than as his own mind and heart dictates. If people are not satisfied with the way a particular case was decided, they are at liberty to change the law by the legislative process. To make judicial elections a device for popular review of individual decisions is to pervert both the judicial process and the elective process."
Winters has high praise for the newspapers of Wisconsin for taking a positive stand in the matter. Besides the bar associations, the one other agency that should have spoken out in the campaign was the public press. Winters said. And he added:

"The newspapers of the state bore this responsibility most commendably, and, in my opinion, their close coverage of the campaign and their editorial comment probably was sufficient to account for the narrow margin by which Justice Wilkie won."
What about future judicial campaigns in Wisconsin, now that Mr. Boyle came so close to being elected through these tactics?
Mr. Boyle threatened to sue the Post-Crescent for libel because we labelled him a "perennial office-seeker," but we suspect he may try again. If he does not others will be encouraged by his showing to emulate his campaign.
Winters said the campaign was a good argument for adopting the so-called Missouri plan under which an incumbent judge runs for reelection not against a named opponent but upon his record. "It is true that even under the Missouri plan Justice Wilkie might have been attacked for the Tropic decision. But without a live candidate to campaign against him, whom the voters could vote for on an affirmative basis, they would have seen more clearly in a noncompetitive election that they were being asked to condemn a man because of his vote in a single case, and the campaign against him would never have gotten off the ground."
Justice Wilkie's narrow victory preserved for the time being an independent judiciary in Wisconsin. But the victory was far from decisive enough to assure that preservation into the future. Between campaigns is the time to consider the measures necessary to protect our state courts from other Boyle-type attacks in the future.

Looking Backward

Reeder Smith Against Bond Issue

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Motor for May 24, 1964.

All who vote for the bonds, vote for $50,000 in bonds and interest thereof, amounting to $85,000, all for a few individuals' local interest on the River.
The result of this must be to drive away every team and teamster out of town, and to warn every stranger not to invest under such a hecubus.
The Act authorizing this vote reads thus: "For the purpose of determining whether such bonds shall or may be issued. . . the ballots to be voted shall have printed thereon the words 'For the Bonds' or 'Against the Bonds.'"
All who vote for the bonds, vote for a tax upon the people of $85,000.
No attempt at deception, that a less amount is meant to carry the vote, can alter the Law. When the vote is cast for it, it means the amount named in the Law, and to vote for $25,000 (or $5,000) would be voting for and not against, and all this without any guarantee or proposition from any railroad company, and our wise and prudent City Managers are to sell these Bonds, "and they may restrict the man who sells them, not to let them go for less than face value," and may pay him $500 or more for negotiating the sale, whether he sells them or not.
The above is my understanding of the farce, and (I) cannot think the public judgment will vote for so wild a measure. — Advertisement.

Fifteen men aboard the sunken submarine Squalus were rescued and 17 others were known to be alive after being entombed for more than 29 hours. In spite of the dramatic rescue in a diving bell, it was believed that 27 of the crew were dead. This was the first rescue in history from such a depth—240 feet.
Senior students Herbert Faick and Merna Ratzburg were honored at Hortonville High School when they were named outstanding boy and girl students in their class. They were chosen by a combined vote of their classmates and members of the faculty.
Marjorie Batten was elected chief ranger of the Girls Court of Foresters at Bear Creek. Helen Rebmman was named chief vice ranger; Vivian Lorge was elected recording secretary; Mary Wied and Janet Lorge sentinels; Bertille Wied and Stella Nordor, conductors.
New officers of the Girls Athletic Association at Appleton High School included Margaret Albrecht, president, Florence Winter, vice president, Rilla Swamp, secretary-treasurer, and Virginia Laeyendecker, recording secretary.

Donald Garlock, Neenah, was installed as chairman of the Northern Chapter, Certified Public Accountants at the organization's annual meeting in Green Bay. He succeeded Winton Schumaker, Appleton. Other officers included Gerald O. Dahlke, Appleton, vice chairman, John J. Canning, Green Bay, secretary, Robert Stauffer, Oshkosh, and Harold Kugler, Manitowish, directors.
Mrs. Norbert Derringer was elected president of the Cross Roads Homemakers Club. Other new officers included Mrs. Thomas Arbogast, vice president and treasurer, Mrs. Matt O'Neill, secretary, and Mrs. Harry Tews, health chairman.
Girls Scouts in St. Therese eighth grade who received their curved bar awards were Marie Campbell, Sandra Herlache, Judy Faulk, Mary Kay Livingston, Beverly Mahlock, Susan Neuenfeldt, Ellen Rudolph and Delia Spang. First Class badges were awarded to Carol Cottrell, Mary Ellen Reed, Mary Pat Sherry and Cecile Vanderheyden.
A pigeon from the Kaukauna loft of Al Boree came in first in the flight race from Calmar, Iowa. The winning bird completed the 195-mile race with the average speed of 1,068 yards per minute. The bird owned by George Wydeven, Little Chute, came in second at one yard per minute behind the winner.

Compromise on Medicare Bill Reached by House Committee

BY ROBERT S. ALLEN AND PAUL SCOTT

A major breakthrough has been made in the House Ways and Means Committee on the administration's long-stalled Medicare bill.
Agreement in principle has been reached by a majority of the committee's 25 members on a compromise three-part program which provides:
—A 5 per cent across-the-board hike in Social Security benefits for the 12 million people now receiving these payments.
—Liberalization of the Kerr-Mills federal-state matching program to permit payment of physician costs as well as hospital bills and include an additional 100,000 needy, elderly persons not now eligible.
—Establishment of a new program of hospital insurance coverage under the Social Security retirement program for persons 65 and over.
Under this tentatively approved medical care package, put together in a series of backstage meetings with Democratic congressional leaders and White House aides, a hospital insurance trust fund would be set up under the Social Security program.
This trust fund, designed to defray the cost of the new hospital care program, would be financed by an increase in the Social Security payroll tax from the present maximum of 3 1/2 per cent to 7 1/2 per cent. The payroll tax would be increased to 10 per cent in 1972.
These increased funds would pay the hospital costs for the first 45 days of all elderly persons covered under the new medical care program. No doctor bills would be paid.
Still unsettled are the date this program would become effective and the amount of taxes an individual would have to pay into the fund before becoming eligible for hospital insurance coverage.

$13 for every worker—matched by his employer.

FIGURING THE COST — Total cost of the new medical care package during the early year would be $1.5 billion annually, according to a private administration estimate being circulated among committee members.
Offsetting this, the higher payroll taxes and income base would bring in a yearly income of approximately $1.5 billion. To keep the plan financially sound in later years, Social Security experts believe the tax base would have to be increased to $6,200 by 1972.

Final House Ways and Means Committee approval of this medical care program is due early in June when the legislators meet to iron out the remaining details.

Lions Clubs Thankful for Eyeglasses

Editor, Post-Crescent:

We, of the two Appleton Lions Clubs, would like to thank the people of Appleton for their wonderful response to our appeal for used eye glasses. We would also like to thank the local merchants, banks, radio stations and public schools for their help in our collection. We were able to go over our goal with this help.
We ended our drive Friday, May 23, with a total of 1,603 pair of glasses, over 500 pair of lenses, and a large number of frames. These glasses will help to make a total of 125,000 pairs being sent from Wisconsin to Ecuador.
Thanks to the people of Appleton, some where, someone will be able to see again. We will be asking for your help again next year, when some other area will need glasses.

Wisconsin Report

Democrats as Handy As Republicans Now In Soliciting Funds

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Fifteen years ago a young Stoughton lawyer made a campaign for the governorship with a total chest of about $10,000, somebody recalled the other day. He was Carl Thompson, who lost that campaign but who later ran for the State Senate where he sits today.

Thompson might have been reflecting wryly about the changing times and currents in Wisconsin politics when his party in a single event the other night deposited $120,000 in its campaign chest for its state campaign this year. A similar $100 a plate dinner a year ago in anticipation of this year's campaign expenses probably raised somewhat more. Today such men as Gov. Reynolds, Sen. Proxmire and the congressmen hold annual money-raising dinners on their own behalf at prices of up to $50. Even some of the local district politicians have adapted the device to provide campaign budgets that only a few years earlier would have seemed utterly unattainable.
So profoundly have financial standards in Wisconsin politics changed almost overnight that some of the local partisans are not yet fully aware of the realities. Especially among the more senior Democrats, there continues a tendency to talk out of a poor mouth, as a gentle Irish lady of my acquaintance would put it. In fact, the Democrats today are well-heeled, by all previous criteria.

HOW IT GOES

There are several and fairly obvious reasons for the improved financial position of the party which used to denounce the Republican campaign budgets as much out of envy as for reasons of principle.
One of them is the fact that the party organization lately has been led by men who have faced up to the reality of inflated campaign costs and have learned that it is as easy to tap a well-wisher for $100 as it is for $25 or $50.
Another is the fact that the party has won enough elections in Wisconsin and nationally to have a substantial reservoir of public-salaried officials who can be persuaded to buy tickets to such events as a gesture of gratitude for their favors received.

But most of all, the Democrats have proved lately that they have the potential for becoming a ruling political party. They thus have been able to attract the interest of other financial sources not normally thought of as Democratic contributors.

The program book distributed at the Jefferson-Jackson day banquet at Milwaukee was illuminating, chock full as it was with paid announcements of business proprietors of all kinds, including conspicuously some of those doing business directly with government agencies. Perhaps as significant was the presence of a number of executives of sizable business corporations in the audience and on the speaker's list, including the chairman of one of the largest food packing firms in the state.

ANY DOLLAR GOOD

Many business corporations know no partisan sentiment. It is not especially surprising that a party which has a couple of senior members of the House of Representatives, two United States senators, and control of the state executive establishment is able to interest businessmen in making campaign year contributions. Nor does it matter much that some of these business executives are simultaneously making contributions to the Republican Party — frequently with more willingness. From the viewpoint of the Democratic organization, one dollar is as useful as another.

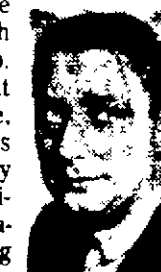

The old image of a financially struggling Democratic Party is out of date. It may be that dollar for dollar the Republicans can maintain their superiority this year. But the financial competition is today more equal than ever before in history — a fact which is relevant to the virtual equality of the parties in voting power on election day. Thoughtful men may worry about the huge sums today's campaign managers require to get the ear of the voter. But there is nothing to show that circumstances are likely to change soon.

Strictly Personal

Individualism Vital Point in Our Society

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

I wonder how many of us in America really understand and appreciate the "individualism" we pay such homage to. Too often, it seems to me, the word is used merely as a political incantation, meaning "Let's keep the government from interfering with my right to grab as much as I want to."

But unless "individualism" becomes a much wider and deeper thing than this, it serves only as a mask for greed and privilege. Unless we really respect the value of dissent, the goodness of variety, the importance of the person becoming what he wants to be in all aspects of his life, then we are simply flattening and debasing the whole idea.
A few weeks ago, I attended a meeting for five Russian women who are visiting our country on a cultural interchange program. They were women of intelligence and education — a doctor, a teacher, a social worker, and so on. The audience asked them many questions about the Soviet system.
What was so depressing about the program was the utter lack of individuality in these women. They spoke by committee; their replies were "official" ones; they lacked spontaneity, humor, and the desire to criticize themselves.

There was no genuine communication between them and the audience, because their minds were hermetically sealed. Words like "peace" and "freedom" meant what Soviet policy wanted them to mean; and every pointed question was deflected into orthodox Marxist channels — that is to say, not truly met and answered, but evaded with rhetoric.
I am sure that fear plays a large part in this public attitude of Soviet citizens abroad; and possibly in private encounters they are more relaxed and more open. Yet, apart from this factor, they seemed like members of some ant society, in whom all individual thinking and feeling had been subordinated to the labors of the colony.

The Iron Curtain is more than a political or military barrier; it is a very real psychological gulf between two cultures. For a full generation, the Russians have been turning out people who dare not think for themselves, dare not be different, dare not stand up and argue against the goals and direction of their government.

It is not enough for us to have an opposing political and economic system; we must also encourage more genuine individualism among ourselves. American conformity is no better than Russian conformity. If our society will not defend the right of everyone to dissent and differ, then we will have lost our great moral advantage over those drab and deindividualized drones who are working for our downfall.

Potomac Fever— by Jack Wilson

Now when the President looks worried you'll know why. It's not Viet Nam, De Gaulle, or the House Rules Committee. The rents are late.

The Senate refuses to investigate its relations with Bobby Baker, which is smart. You never get anywhere messing with poor relations.

Anyway, the Democrats never thought there was anything really wrong about Bobby's activities — and they don't intend to start now.

President Succession Still in Confusion

Vacancy in Top Office Revives Dilemma; No Solution in Sight

JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — Constitutional confusion is still wrestling with the standing national confusion of presidential succession, and the end is in sight.
Through the years solutions have been offered by the bushel, but none acted on some, passed and changing them.
Now B. Johnson's succession to the presidency, leaving the presidency vacant, revived the dilemma.
The American Bar Association has already recommended that procedure be followed through a constitutional amendment.
Truman, and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon working on the problem for months, feels the same way.
It was expected to suggest,

perhaps today, that this be done. But a constitutional amendment needs approval by two-thirds of both houses of Congress and by three-fourths of the states.

The trouble here is at the start, for while the Senate may approve one plan the House may prefer another. But that is only part of the problem. The other is the question of presidential disability.

How does a vice president take over if a president is disabled, or how does he take over if a president is disabled but doesn't know it or won't or can't admit it?

Eisenhower and Nixon and after them Presidents John F.
Kennedy and Johnson had an understanding; there was no law covering this. Now Johnson has a similar agreement with the man next in line to succeed him because there is no vice president, House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass.

Takes Office
Truman had said that once a vice president takes office, because of a president's disability, the president would not be entitled to resume his office if and when he recovered.

But Eisenhower said he had no fear that a vice president would refuse to surrender the presidency — once a stricken president was able to resume it — because, he said, "I think he couldn't possibly get away with it."

Nixon said the arrangements worked out by Eisenhower, Kennedy and Johnson in case of their disability — letters to the men next in line to succeed them — lack the force of law and would be inadequate if a dispute arose.

Under a law passed in 1947
if the president dies, and there is no vice president, next in line to succeed is the House speaker, right now, McCormack, and then the Senate's president pro tempore, right now, Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz.

Senate Proposal
The Senate subcommittee is expected to recommend a constitutional amendment covering both the succession to the presidency, explained above, and the problem of disability this way:

When a president says in writing he's too disabled to carry out his job, the vice president would become acting president until the president declared his disability ended.

If the president didn't make his disability known, the vice president with approval by a majority of the Cabinet could declare the president disabled and assume the powers and duties but not the office of president.

If the president disputed this act of his vice president and Cabinet, Congress would have to decide by a two-thirds vote of both houses for the vice president to continue as acting president. Otherwise, the president would resume his powers and duties.

Name New Director for AHS Band

Ivan Spangenberg, band director at Roosevelt Junior High School, will replace Frank Comella as director of the Appleton
High School band next fall.

The Appleton Board of Edu-

Wednesday, May 27, 1964 Appleton Post-Crescent A7

cation approved the appointment on the recommendation of Supt. of Schools Royce Kurtz.

Comella recently was named the Appleton public schools' first supervisor of music. He will continue to teach part time, probably at the junior high level, next year, but the supervisory position is expected eventually to become a full time one.

Kurtz said the direction of the high school band, because of increasing special work, is becoming a full-time position and Comella would not be able to continue it on a part-time basis.

"The band program will continue to be a very excellent program under Spangenberg," Kurtz said.

Comella has been an extremely popular band director with both students and parents.

Best Selling Books Are About Kennedy

Offerings Range From Prize-Winning Book to a Thesis Written at Harvard

BY SID MOODY determine. The publishers NEW YORK (AP)—The big aren't releasing sales figures, but best sellers in the publishing industry are books about the life, times and assassination of John F. Kennedy. They range from a thesis he wrote as an undergraduate at Harvard to the book that won him a Pulitzer Prize. One runs only several hundred words and sells by the tens of thousands. Some sell by the millions. How many of the Kennedy books have been sold is hard to operative rather than book stores which is why the volume is not at the top on best seller lists. Slightly more than 300,000 copies have also been sold overseas in Spanish, Korean, Japanese, Italian, Dutch, Danish and Swedish editions. Western Publishing Co., which printed "The Torch Is Passed," says the press run is the largest they know of in terms of units produced and sold in so short a period. Another multimillion seller is "Four Days," a joint effort of United Press International and American Heritage. "Four Days" has also been distributed in book stores through Simon and Schuster. Sales total just over two million through UPI papers and broadcasting stations and an additional 350,000 to date via book stores. The latter figure has put "Four Days" atop the nonfiction best seller list for a number of weeks. A press run of 40,000 in a Dutch version has been ordered. Life magazine printed three million copies of a memorial Kennedy edition combining their issues of the assassination and funeral of the late president. A total of 2.85 million copies of "Four Days" has also been distributed. Look Magazine also put out a memorial Kennedy edition but declined to disclose sales. Random House is one of the publishing firms that has released sales figures. Within a month of publication it has sold 105,500 copies of Jim Bishop's "A Day in the Life of President Kennedy." "Why England Slept," written by Kennedy in 1940 as an enlarged version of a thesis he did at Harvard, has sold 43,943 copies since its original publication by Wilfred Funk and 8,022 of these were sold during the first four months of 1964. Sales of a paperback version put out by Doubleday totaled 18,000 in November and early December. Farrar Straus & Co. has printed 130,000 copies of "The John F. Kennedy—a Family Portrait" by photographer Mark Shaw. Benjamin Bradlee wrote a memorial of Kennedy in a week of several hundred words which Lippincott has illustrated with photographs. The short booklet, titled "That Special Book about her husband published by Little, Brown & Co. has sold over 100,000 copies since April 27. A second printing is in the works. One author of a Kennedy book, William Manchester, has been named by the president's widow to write an account of the days surrounding the assassination. Jacqueline Kennedy selected him on the basis of his "Portrait of a President," a book about her husband published by Little, Brown & Co. in 1962. They are not disclosing sales other than to say "there was a spurt" after the assassination.
